New department will coordinate alcohol & drug programs

Legislation outlining duties for a new Department of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse was signed into law late last week by Governor James R. Thompson.

"Many groups across the state have worked long hours to develop a thorough and intelligent approach to helping those afflicted with alcohol and drug problems. This cabinet-level department will improve the services the state has to offer to those who need help and it will make a concentrated effort toward preventing the abuse of alcohol and drugs," the governor said.

"The department, as part of its drive to educate the public about the dangers of alcohol and drug abuse, also will center one of its most important functions at making young people aware of the dangers associated with drugs and alcohol," he said.

The new department, which was formally created last August when Thompson signed House Bill 670, will improve the coordination of alcohol and drug treatment and prevention programs run by other state agencies, he said. Under the new laws, the duties and functions of the Dangerous Drugs Commission and the alcoholism services of the Department of Mental Health will be assumed by the new department on July 1, 1984.

The bill the governor signed during Friday's Springfield news conference, HB 963, formally abolishes the Commission and the Division of Alcoholism in the Department of Mental Health and transfers their authority to the department. It also provides administrative guidelines for the department.

Thompson said several statewide organizations supported the department's creation and were instrumental in convincing the Legislature of the need for a department for the prevention of drug and alcohol abuse.

Among the groups backing the move for the new department was the Illinois Alcoholism and Drug Dependence Association, the Gateway Foundation, Lutheran Social Services of Illinois and the Illinois Drug Abuse Counselor Certification Project.

The governor noted that Lieutenant Governor George Ryan's work in preventing the abuse of drugs and alcohol by youths in Illinois is a critical part of the state's work in preventing addiction problems. In addition, the Lieutenant Governor's Task Force on Substance Abuse Prevention is making strides in addressing abuse problems, he said.

ARRESTED FOR BURGLARY OF OFFICER'S RESIDENCE

Bond was set at $40,000 at 3:40 p.m. Monday for Charles T. Howland, 17, of 3801 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, accused of burglarizing a Granite City policeman's residence at 7:45 p.m. Dec. 2. Associate Judge Thomas Hildebrand authorized transferring him to county custody.

Three bedrooms had been ransacked after entry to the home was gained by breaking a window. Another window also was broken in an unsuccessful initial entry attempt.

There was damage to a window screen, a door and a lock, and the intruder left through a third window, an investigation showed. The suspect was captured the same night in the 400 block of Sara Avenue.

State historic sites offer insights into past holidays

Persons looking for something different to get them in the holiday spirit this year might consider visiting one of several Illinois state historic sites planning special Christmas observances, according to the Department of Conservation. Pierre Menard Home Historic Site, in Chester, home of Illinois' first lieutenant governor, will be decorated for the yule season for a Christmas open house from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday. Decorations of native greenery and herbs mantle decorations and centerpieces of fruit and pastries add a fire in the fireplace will greet visitors to the historic mansion on the Mississippi River. Refreshments will be provided.

At Bishop Hill State Historic Site near Kewanee, the shops and museum will be candlelit and decorated for a Swedish-style Christmas during St. Lucia Days, Friday and Saturday. A special Christmas celebration known as the Julekatt will be conducted at 6 a.m. Christmas morning at the Bishop Hill Colony Church. More than 100 candles will illuminate the sanctuary for this ecumenical Christmas service. A coffee hour will follow the service.

The Moore Home in Charleston, Ill., where Lincoln visited his stepmother before leaving Illinois to assume the presidency, will be open for an 1800s Christmas celebration from noon to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Costumed volunteers will demonstrate preparations for the holidays feast and other activities that would have occupied the average American in the mid-1800s. In keeping with the historical period, there will be few Christmas decorations.

At Vandalia Statehouse, authentically costumed hostesses will conduct a candlelight tour of the historic old state capitol from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., Saturday.

Christmas decorations typical of those in the 1920s will adorn the Dana-Thompson House, the Springfield home designed for Susan Dana by renowned architect Frank Lloyd Wright. A huge Christmas tree decorated with period ornaments will festoon the gallery of the home, and decorations of natural materials—boxwood, holly, fruits and poinsettias—will appear throughout the home.

Highlighting the Christmas observance at the Dana-Thompson House will be a series of evening hour tours from 4:30 to 8 p.m. on Sundays, Dec. 11 and 18. The Dec. 18 tour will feature an outdoor luminaries display. Sand-weighted paper sacks with votive candles inside will outline the porches balconies and walkways of the intricate home and musicians will perform throughout the home and its grounds.

Christmas observances will continue beyond the traditional Dec. 25 date when the Twelfth Night is celebrated at Pierre Menard Home near Chester. The event, from 1 to 4 p.m. on Jan. 8, marks the close of the Christmas season as commemorated in Illinois' historic French quarter. Local dance and singing groups will perform period French songs and the home will be decorated with greenery, fruits and pastries. Refreshments will be served.

For more information on any of these events, or about the Illinois Historic Sites program, persons may call the site or DCC's Division of Historic Sites at 1-217-782-1801.

Church, TV station offer aid to the poor

Low income Quad-City area residents whose home heat has been shut off, or is about to be, may seek help Friday, Dec. 16, from noon to 1:30 p.m. when New Life Evangelistic Center's winter relief truck will be in Granite City.

KNLC Channel 24, which is owned by the center, will be filming a special documentary on aid to the poor in the Granite City and Alton areas while the relief truck is in operation.

THE TRUCK will be on the Johnson Road side of the Bellemore Village Shopping Center, near Kentucky Fried Chicken.

According to the Rev. Larry Rice, pastor of New Life Evangelistic Center, the truck will offer blankets, weatherization materials, tips on keeping warm and other aids to those without heat. Volunteers will work with problem cases to determine how best to help, Rev. Rice said.

In some cases where only the gas has been shut off, the truck will be able to offer electric heaters. In some cases, small amounts of money may be available to encourage the power company not to stop service or to resume it, the minister said.

THOSE WHO have no power or gas may apply for a kerosene heater. Due to a shortage of heaters, the most serious cases will be selected for the kerosene heaters and those given the heaters will be required to attend a safety seminar on use of the heaters before they are installed by volunteers for the center, Rev. Rice noted.

Rev. Rice said the truck also will have food items and warm clothing to distribute to those in need. Persons in the community who would like to donate clothing or food may bring the items to the truck the day of the visit, he added.

"The big thing we are stressing this year is insulation, including plastic covers on windows. Each window loses about $20 in heat during the heating season. With a plastic cover, that can be reduced to about $10. That's a $10 savings. Figuring a house with 12 to 15 windows, that is a lot of money that can be saved," Rev. Rice said.

THE TRUCK will serve anyone in danger of losing heat in the near future.

Persons seeking help from the truck should understand that the aid will be videotaped for future televising. "Channel 24 is the newest St. Louis station and strives to help those in need in every way, along with providing wholesome family entertainment," Rev. Rice, who also is president of Channel 24, said.

He said he expects about 40 to 50 needy persons at the relief truck Dec. 16, but volunteers will do everything possible if there are more applicants than anticipated.

Apartment burglary basis of 7-yr. term

Stanley Hargrove, 19, of the 2400 block of Ohio Avenue is to serve seven years in an Illinois prison for a July 15 residential burglary in Granite City.

The investigation was by local police, and an information (charge) was issued by the Madison County state's attorney.

A burglary occurred at the apartment of Hattie McCallum, 3106 Kirkpatrick Homes; $9 in cash was taken from a purse, and a set of keys was reported missing.

Hargrove pleaded guilty Aug. 29. The sentencing was by Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill.

MADISON MAN IS CHARGED WITH DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Michael Jerome Flowers, 29, of 804 Jackson St., Madison, was arrested by Madison police at 7:30 p.m. Monday and charged with disorderly conduct.

Flowers was allegedly using loud and abusive language and refused to leave El Capaloro Lounge, Second and Jackson streets. When police arrived, Flowers was escorted out of the lounge and when he was leaving, he allegedly took his keys out of his pocket and allegedly threw them at a window in the lounge, attempting to break it.

Flowers was released on a notice to appear in court.

TRANSFERRED TO COUNTY

Charles P. Thompson, 25, of 1908 Rhodes St., arrested by police at 3 p.m. Dec. 1 at a Buxton Avenue home for allegedly burglarizing it, was transferred during the weekend to the Madison County jail. Associate Judge Thomas Hildebrand at a hearing in Granite City set his bond at $25,000.

Granite High extends helping hand

The Granite City High School Student Council is coordinating a holiday assistance drive that will eventually provide 120 food baskets for needy families and warm clothing for two children.

Student Stephanie Hayes, shopping co-chairman, said revenues from a student dance and the results of a student canned-goods drive will support the food basket project.

The baskets will each be filled with a turkey, 24 cans of vegetables, tea and bakery goods. Kroger food store will help pack the food, and Nestle Company, Inc., will contribute tea for the project.

The baskets will be distributed to area families on Dec. 19. Teachers have volunteered to drive vans for the deliveries.

Miss Hayes said her shopping spree committee will escort a grade school boy and girl on a winter clothes buying trip this week. The Student Council raised $300 for the upcoming purchases.

If funds are sufficient, the two children also will be able to select toys on their trip. Students will treat the children to dinner.

Serving with Miss Hayes as shopping spree co-chairman is Jane Hicks. Chairmen for the basket committee are Terri Janulavich, Becky Jackson and Joe Beck.

Here's looking at you, doll

Cabbage Patch mania — a true example of supply and demand out of balance — has hit and hit hard. "If you are going to succeed, you gotta have a gimmick" has been a slogan we have heard often, but don't believe in in all cases. In this one, however, it sure worked.

The homely little dolls with yarn hair and gimmicky adoption papers are the "in" thing this year. "In" to the point where they have caused riots in some shopping centers, people have been arrested and injured in stampedes, scalpers are selling the dolls for double their normal price.

We have heard of seamstresses willing to make full-length mink coats for the dolls, couples flying to England just to buy one, radio stations jokingly offering to drop dolls by plane and people believing them, adoption bureaus to match people desperate for a doll with sellers and other such symptoms of Cabbage Patch mania.

One couple has filed a lawsuit in New York against Coleco Industries Inc., the manufacturer, alleging that the company broke the law by offering goods without the intent to supply them. We suspect it is just a ploy to get the company to give them a doll before Christmas in return for dropping the suit. It's an expensive way of getting a $20 doll, but it might work.

Venture Stores have issued free cards for parents who could not find a doll. At least the child can have a promise under the tree. It says to the child that adoption lists are very long this year. "...please be patient, that's a sign of being a good parent, and dream about all the things you'll want to do with your new kid, because soon you'll be a proud parent of a Cabbage Patch Kid of your very own." Some children are bound to be disappointed Christmas morning and we feel very sorry for them. However, one thing is for sure, one group should have a very merry Christmas — the Coleco stockholders.

It's time for letters to Santa

Great news for the kids! Gather the little ones around.

We just heard from Santa and he is waiting for letters from Quad-City area children. It seems many of the children have been a little bit lazy this year and have not let Santa know what they want. Of course, many have visited him in person to let him know what they want Christmas morning, and he never forgets, but a reminder can't hurt.

Well, as in past years, Santa says he will be glad to send copies of all letters he receives from Quad-City area children to the Press-Record so we can share some of them with our readers, but the letters should be sent soon. The elves have to have time to make all those toys.

Hand drawn pictures on the letters make them real special to Santa. The address is simple — the same as always — Santa Claus, North Pole. The postman will get the letters to Santa.

Christmas is approaching fast, so there is no time to waste. It's time to get those letters out to Santa.

And, by the way, don't forget to tell Santa you love him. He loves to hear that. He loves you too.

How we love our greenbacks

As the government should have learned from the Susan B. Anthony dollar coin and the less than complete acceptance of the $2 bill, except at race tracks, of course, Americans are not fond of attempts to change their money.

We have loved our "greenbacks" since the Civil War. Now, the Treasury Department is thinking of changing all that. Even pink and blue on our "bucks" have been countered, we now find out. Those colors better suit baby's gifts than our money, we feel.

What appears certain is that printing costs may force the government to have the back sides of our dollars printed by the cheaper offset printing method, but keeping the front side printed in the familiar "three-dimensional feeling" intaglio printing method.

The thinking is that printing currency in more than one color could make it easier to cope with counterfeiting. As photocopy machines and printing methods continue to improve, easily made copies of money are getting closer and closer to the real thing.

Like the old Silver Certificate dollars which coin collectors hoard, the new money may remain primarily green, but have red, blue or other color emblems and serial numbers.

Also under consideration are additional anti-counterfeiting measures, such as metallic strips or magnetic strips in the bills, or special inks which glow under special lighting to verify "the real thing."

We can live with a little more color on our cash. We just hope the government retains green as the primary color on all denominations. We work hard for our greenbacks. We just can't think about working 40 hours for a "fistful of pink."

Stricter smoking regulations

As more and more medical evidence accumulates about the harmful effects of cigarette smoking, and as peer pressure continues to prompt large numbers of teenagers to start the addictive habit, it will be interesting to see the result of tougher school policies.

The Granite City School Board revised its anti-smoking policy this week.

New wording relates that students are not allowed to smoke anywhere on the high school campus outside of the assigned outdoor smoking area. To be allowed in that area, all ninth graders must have a parental consent form signed and on file; forms are in the principal's office.

For the first offense, there will be a conference with the pupil and a form letter will be sent to parents explaining the smoking policy and penalties.

On a second offense, there will be a one-day suspension and the parent must come to the school to confer with the administration on the policy and penalties.

Third offenses will require the parent to go to the school for a conference, and the violator will be suspended for five school days.

On subsequent violations, there will be conferences and the possibility of longer suspensions or expulsion.

Smoking inside the school will result in an immediate five-day suspension and second offenses will result in a recommendation for expulsion. The smoking violations will be cumulative from year to year.

Her Spring and Christmas concerts were eagerly anticipated and were lovely productions. She is greatly missed but will live on in the hearts of her students.

The Granite City School system has lost a most valuable asset. From our former students and their parents.

Madison County also recorded a decline in unemployment, from 12.1 to 11.2 percent. The number of unemployed dropped from 1,775 in September to 1,555 in October while the work force dropped from 16,550 persons to 16,225 during the same period.

In the seven-county area including Madison, St. Clair, Clinton, Monroe, Bond, Calhoun and Jersey counties, unemployment dropped from 11.3 percent to 10.4 percent as unemployment dropped from 32,600 in September to 29,700 in October.

Statewide, the labor force dropped from 5,539,000 in September to 5,502,000 in October while the number unemployed declined from 554,000 persons to 515,000 and the unemployment rate fell from 9.8 percent to 9.4 percent.

"THAT REFLECTS that the number of Granite City residents employed declined by 100, but economic events in Granite City are picking up," she said. "Up until lately, the weather condition have been good for construction. There have been recalls in the steel mill, which is closing in on 90 percent of capacity, and a lot of other industries are picking up — grocery stores, restaurants and the like. When the mill is going good, all outlook," she said.

THE OUTLOOK for November and December? Mrs. Gerstenecker says it is generally favorable. More are out of work.

Mrs. Gerstenecker noted about 300 more Granite City residents got off the unemployment rolls between September and October.

Unemployed, and October in Granite City, primarily due to students returning to schools and colleges.

The labor force (total employed and unemployed) declined from 20,150 to 19,750 in October and the number Granite City residents actively employed declined from 16,700 to 16,600.

"THERE HAS been general improvement in the entire area. Statewide, the improvement has been going on about four months and the same amount of time. We anticipate there will be far more dollars to spend than six months ago or a year ago. We should see continued improvement," predicted Velda Gerstenecker of the Research and Analysis Division of the Bureau of Employment Security in Belleville.

In October 1982, unemployment was at 19.1 percent and there were 3,750 residents seeking jobs. This October, the unemployment rate is at 16.0 percent and 3,150 GC residents

GC unemployment dips to 16%

By GARY SCHNEIDER

A better Christmas season than last year is being predicted by the Illinois Bureau of Employment Security as unemployment continues to drop in this area and economic health continues to build.

Granite City's unemployment declined from 17.1 percent in September to 16.0 percent in October, the latest figures available. The October report was released Monday.

"THERE HAS been general improvement in the entire area. Statewide, the improvement has been going on about four months and the same amount of time. President Ronald Reagan has recently signed a bill that will pay farmers not to produce milk. The law is expected to reduce costly federal government purchases of surplus milk products, such as cheese, butter and powdered milk. Those questioned were asked what they think about the federal switch.

Harlene Sanders, former Madison resident
"I think it's pitiful. I think they (federal officials) ought to give people what they can. They take it away from them."

Helen Endicott, Madison
"I think it's really dumb for them to do that. I think it (surplus commodity giveaways) really benefits the low income residents. For those out of work, the surplus food is a tremendous thing to them."

Doreen Harper, Salvation Army bell-ringer
"The government should buy the extra milk and give it to the people that need it. I work with the Salvation Army and we could use powdered milk very much."

R. J. Metcalf, Granite City
"I think the farmer needs everything he can get. He's the poor man caught in between. The middle man is making all the money. The farmer gets 24 cents a dozen for eggs."

To a gifted teacher with God's love in her heart and the ability to bring out the very best in our children.

She gave them joy and they expressed it in their singing. She is not easily surpassed in her many abilities.

Her Spring and Christmas concerts were eagerly anticipated and were lovely productions. She is greatly missed but will live on in the hearts of her students.

The Granite City School system has lost a most valuable asset. From our former students and their parents.

Madison County also recorded a decline in unemployment, from 12.1 to 11.2 percent. The number of unemployed dropped from 1,775 in September to 1,555 in October while the work force dropped from 16,550 persons to 16,225 during the same period.

In the seven-county area including Madison, St. Clair, Clinton, Monroe, Bond, Calhoun and Jersey counties, unemployment dropped from 11.3 percent to 10.4 percent as unemployment dropped from 32,600 in September to 29,700 in October.

Statewide, the labor force dropped from 5,539,000 in September to 5,502,000 in October while the number unemployed declined from 554,000 persons to 515,000 and the unemployment rate fell from 9.8 percent to 9.4 percent.

"THERE HAS been general improvement in the entire area. Statewide, the improvement has been going on about four months and the same amount of time. We anticipate there will be far more dollars to spend than six months ago or a year ago. We should see continued improvement," predicted Velda Gerstenecker of the Research and Analysis Division of the Bureau of Employment Security in Belleville.

In October 1982, unemployment was at 19.1 percent and there were 3,750 residents seeking jobs. This October, the unemployment rate is at 16.0 percent and 3,150 GC residents at the Air Force graveyard in Arizona — I no longer will be the curator and caretaker of the aircraft.

Last summer, vandals climbed aboard the elevated plane and tore a one-foot hole in the plexiglass cockpit of the plane, which was devastating to see happen. "Some people just love to destroy equipment in the park and elsewhere for the thrills and kicks it gives them."

After I went through all the time and effort to have the plane elevated, with material and equipment donated by kind citizens and business people, we still have the elusive vandals in the park, doing their thing. I feel after 12 years in keeping the plane intact and presentable looking, with paint and parts, I have done my share in preserving the F84F for the community and for what it represents. Now, it is time for the plane to be taken care of by others.

Each year a photo of the plane must be taken and sent to the Air Force for evaluation, to show the condition of the memorial, to keep it on location and for it not to look like junk or devastated in appearance, which will cause the Air Force to have the plane destroyed. The Air Force Disposition Center, Tucson, Ariz., that holds title to the plane, thanked me for my concentrated efforts and dedication in the upkeep of the aircraft. To me, it was a labor of love, you might say.

The plane is a memorial to our living and deceased veterans of Granite City. It is a tragedy that it is vandalized, as well as other equipment in the park.

Reluctantly, as caretaker of the beloved bird over the years, as General MacArthur said, "I will just fade away."

Firemen went out of the way

To the Editor:
I would like to praise Granite City for having three firemen on the staff, who to a lot of us are outstanding people. Now a days, it is unusual to find someone who is concerned with other people's problems and who has compassion for other living creatures.

We know what a fireman's duty is, but when they go beyond that without anything but a thank you, then they need to be praised.

I praise you again for caring Capt. Jerry Wallace, Terry Shure and Jim Brailey.

Illinois appears on fiscal target

By Jeff Brody
SPRINGFIELD — Illinois, after the first three months of Fiscal Year 1984, is "on target" with the fiscal plan it adopted last June, says Robert Mandeville, director of the Bureau of the Budget.

But Mandeville said it is still too early to tell whether the state will be able to wean itself from the temporary income tax increase lawmakers approved in the waning hours of the spring legislative session.

"It is too early to tell whether revenue growth this year will be sufficient to offset the loss of temporary tax revenues," Mandeville said. "We are on the positive side of our financial plan, but it's too early to say whether economic activity is enough to match the optimistic view from the tax debate."

The legislature approved an 18-month income tax increases last June after rejecting calls for a permanent increase. Members of the House asserted that economic growth from the national recovery would be sufficient to offset the revenue loss when a temporary increase expires.

Mandeville said current estimates project the state will have about as much to spend during FY1985 as it has this fiscal year if the temporary increase expires.

He also said the elimination of one-time financial obligations this year could allow program spending to increase about $300 million in FY1985 even if revenues remain constant.

"We assumed that Illinois would lag about nine months behind the nation in recovery," Mandeville said. "Nationally, the total number of jobs has been increasing since December, but the number of jobs in Illinois has remained constant during that time."

One reason Illinois lags is because the state's industrial production is oriented toward equipment and machinery and not toward consumer products.

Chouteau to accept energy applications

Chouteau will accept applications for energy assistance to low-income families to help with winter heating bills.

The announcement was made after Madison County Community Development named the township an application site.

According to Township Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks, the township will begin accepting the energy assistance requests today. Residents are being asked to telephone the township at 931-1110 for an appointment. Sparks asked that calls be made between 9 a.m. and noon and between 1 and 4 p.m. on Monday through Friday.

"At the present time, we do not know what the income guidelines are or how the program will exactly be managed," Sparks stated.

The township hopes to be able to assist needy families on a first come, first served basis, to those who have first made an appointment to fill out an application.

Meanwhile, customers have been told that new orders would not be filled, and some of the potential business volume has been lost, the workers have been told by Conalco.

MESD Board re-elects Greathouse

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

At its annual reorganization meeting Monday, the Metro-East Sanitation District (MESD) board re-elected Walter "Shang" Greathouse as president and Jose Slack as vice-president of the group.

Members present at the meeting included Greathouse, Slack, Robert Bergman and Dave Bergfield. Board member Russell Robinson was not present at the meeting.

Greathouse said neither he nor Slack are paid extra for holding these positions. However, board members receive $40 for each meeting attended and Greathouse also receives $1,800 per month expense money for his position. The president formerly received a salary of about $3,500 per year, but Greathouse waived this money last year and opted for expense money instead.

Greathouse informally took over the day-to-day operations of MESD after an employee "house-clearing" about 4½ years ago. He says he has since assumed a 50- to 60-hours-per-week work schedule.

A real estate agent by trade, Greathouse was appointed as a trustee of the district six years ago by Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City.

In the last year, Greathouse has been under scrutiny because of bribery-related charges that have been filed against him. He has been accused of accepting a bribe to influence his vote on a zoning matter. However, he says he returned the money and voted against the zoning change.

The charges against him include two counts each of official misconduct and conspiracy to commit bribery and one count of failure to report a bribe.

But as of yet, no trial date has been set due to pending motions. Neither Greathouse nor the rest of the board seem to be overly concerned with the prospect of Greathouse's absence during a trial or his possible conviction.

The matter of the trial was not mentioned during the election considerations. Board Member Bergman later said that if Greathouse is not able to attend a meeting for any reason, that the vice-president, Slack, will temporarily fill in for him. "It's not a complicated matter at all," said Bergman. "And in the case of an emergency, a board member would be replaced."

The reorganization of the district also will include the appointments of various aids to the district and approval of their salaries.

Included in the list are five attorneys who receive about $3,600 each annually (one of the attorneys also receives 25 percent of collections); an auditor who receives a $400 monthly retainer and a fee on all reports; two consulting engineers, one who receives a $150 monthly retainer and fees on special projects and the other who is paid a fee per job; a treasurer who receives $2,600 annually; a clerk who receives $11.15 per hour and a general superintendent who receives $11.84 per hour.

MESD Clerk Helen Christich said the board usually approves these appointments at the same time as the election of officers. She said, however, that she expects the appointments to be approved within the month.

In other business, the board moved to advertise for bids on a new 4-wheel drive vehicle. Greathouse said the district does not presently own a 4-wheel drive vehicle and this type of equipment is needed to "get around on the levees without getting stuck" when the weather gets bad.

According to Greathouse, the last time the board purchased a new vehicle was in 1978, when it bought a truck. Since then, the board has purchased only used vehicles.

Investigation of EOC's handling of Head Start program is widening

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission's (EOC) management of the Head Start program will be investigated by the regional office of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

William Sullivan, a Head Start program supervisor from the Chicago regional office, said the investigation was prompted by the Bank of Alton's freeze on EOC funds. The freezing of the funds has forced the temporary closing of all EOC programs today. Most employees have been placed on leave without pay.

THE BANK froze EOC's assets because EOC owed payments on two loans totaling $250,000. The $155,000 in assets is being held, and $170,000 in principal and interest is still owed. According to Paul Utterback, president of the bank, EOC also is in debt $600,000 to federal and state agencies.

EOC officials had asked for 90 more days in which to pay the debt and for another loan to pay those debts, according to Utterback and Virgil Hook, senior vice president of the Bank of Alton.

ILLINOIS Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) said Tuesday EOC would not receive any more money from that agency. DCCA took away EOC's authorization to operate the Illinois Home Energy Assistance Grant (IHEAG) in November and is accepting applications for agencies to run the weatherization program.

"EOC could not manage its bank debt and that was enough for us to begin looking into the program," Sullivan said. "They have a sizable debt and it is questionable whether they can continue with the program."

Sullivan said the regional office has not determined how it will investigate.

control of Head Start. In addition to the bank debt, Sullivan said the regional office has heard allegations of EOC misused federal funds and violated federal regulations.

"WE ARE definitely concerned how Head Start money is used," Sullivan said. "When we award a program to an agency, we expect things to happen, and they must happen within the conditions of our agency."

Carol Werner, director of the Madison County Head Start program, welcomed the announcement of an investigation.

"YES, THE action taken by the regional office is good. I feel very confident that the action will be successful," Miss Werner said.

I have confidence that a solution will come immediately."

Miss Werner told Head Start members at a meeting in Granite City Wednesday that the regional office will try to remove $105,000 which belongs to Head Start from the EOC account. The regional office told her that EOC could not use federal money as collateral for the loans.

"The money is in the bank, and it belongs to Head Start. We will be paid eventually, but it may take legal action to get the money out of there," Miss Werner said.

EOC employees have not been paid for 2½ weeks. The freeze of EOC's assets meant no employee paychecks could be cashed last weekend.

Although the matter of operating Head Start is important to Miss Werner and others on her staff, the key goal for Head Start personnel is to force the EOC to relinquish sponsorship of the program.

Debbie Buchanan, chairman of the Head Start Policy Council, called for parents of children in the program to ask members of the EOC Board of Directors to voluntarily relinquish control of Head Start. "OUR KIDS have been crippled by what EOC has done, and we don't want them to cheat our kids any more," Mrs. Buchanan said. "Next year, Head Start will have a new sponsor," she pledged.

The Policy Council is considering creating a not-for-profit corporation of its own to take over the Head Start program. If EOC voluntarily relinquishes the program, the council would seek an interim agency to administer the program.

If EOC does not relinquish the program voluntarily, Miss Buchanan said, the council will notify the regional office of examples of alleged mismanagement and failure to comply with federal regulations.

Miss Buchanan and Miss Werner provided documentation of alleged violation in four areas: mismanagement of funds, changes in policy without approval of the policy committee, transfer of funds without regional approval, and major changes in the budget without policy council approval.

FOR INSTANCE, a check presented by the financial officer was used to purchase 25 smocks at the cost of $500. However, Head Start made use of only two of the smocks while the remainder were used in other EOC areas.

"We resigned the checks as a matter of convenience, but we saw here how it can be abused," Miss Werner said. "I didn't know we had even ordered the smocks."

She also contends $517,592 in Head Start funds were transferred to various EOC funds, such as the contribution fund, the rehabilitation fund, the payroll fund and the Foster Grandparents fund.

EOC Financial Director Gene Morelli said last week that some of the money was used to pay payroll taxes and for health and life insurance. Miss Werner acknowledged some of the funds were used for that purpose, others were not.

Communications between Head Start officials and EOC officials indicated problems. On Aug. 31, Miss Werner wrote a memo to Morelli stating vendors were unwilling to serve Head Start and asked for the responsibility of authorizing and accounting of all Head Start funds.

On Sept. 26, she wrote another memo to Morelli stating that bills recorded as paid by Head Start were stored in a drawer unpaid and that the total of those bills was $49,000. Between April 1, the beginning of the fiscal year, and Aug. 31, Head Start had spent 82 percent, or $65,712, of its budgeted amount for administrative costs for EOC administrative staff, CAA administrative travel, administrative supplies, and copier and computer leases, main office phone use and outreach services.

AT THAT time, she also complained of the transfers occurring out of Head Start funds. In Morelli's reply, he said $241,200 was transferred to Head Start while $170,000 was transferred from it. Morelli viewed the memo as an attack on him. In his reply, he stated, "In my 11 years with this agency, my integrity has never been questioned by any audit firm or funding source. During my tenure as director of finance, no question of financial impropriety or managerial infirmity has ever arisen."

"My indignation over your assumption forces me to view your memo not as a cooperative endeavor, but as a direct attack on me and my managerial ability. This may adversely affect our working relationship and mutual concern for the program."

FOLLOWING a Policy Council meeting Nov. 10, Mrs. Buchanan wrote a memo to Williams stating services were being denied because of unpaid bills, bills had not been paid, income from HHS and the Illinois Office of Education for food changes had not been reported to Mrs. Werner and funds were transferred without permission of the regional office.

Mrs. Buchanan asked Williams for monthly financial reports beginning April 1 of expenses incurred but not paid, an itemized list of services charged as administrative costs, and income received from HHS and IOE.

The memo stated it was necessary to do so under authority given by rule 70.2 of the HHS Head Start Policy Manual.

IN THE final memo available, the minutes of a Nov. 28 meeting indicate Mrs. Buchanan also asked for a complete accounting of all Head Start expenses, a statement from Mrs. Werner verifying the expenses and payment of all Head Start funds transferred for any agency purpose without approval of the regional office.

Williams said IOE food reimbursements can be used at the agency's discretion and that the money does not belong to Head Start. He said EOC was obtaining technical assistance considering the spending of IOE money.

At that meeting, Williams gave Miss Werner permission to look at all the cancelled checks. He also said EOC had not taken its fair share, 15 percent, of Head Start funds.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Buchanan also said EOC altered the holiday pay of Head Start employees and the sick leave policy without consulting the policy council.

However, Williams said he could document that charges made by Miss Werner and the policy council are wrong. He also said any policy change decision can be made by the sponsoring agency and that Head Start was bound to those changes.

Miss Buchanan has invited EOC officials, including Board of Directors President John Ervin, to attend tonight's meeting of the Policy Council. The meeting, originally scheduled for the Dunbar-Johnson Center in Madison, will be held at the New Salem Baptist Church, located on 1249 Klein Ave. in Venice. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m.

January lottery will determine proud owners of 7-letter car license plates

A special lottery to determine recipients of new seven letter vanity plates for automobiles will be held in January, Illinois Secretary of State Jim Edgar said Thursday.

To be eligible for the lottery, written requests for seven-letter plate configurations must be postmarked no later than Dec. 31. After the lottery, all seven-letter vanity plate requests will be handled on a first-come, first-served basis.

Edgar said his office has received more than 1,000 written requests for seven-letter plates since a new law which he supported passed the General Assembly last session. It is effective Jan. 1, 1984, and expands the personalized plate possibilities from six to seven letters.

Some of the most popular requests, thus far, Edgar said, are for the names "Michael," "Dorothy" and "Mary Kay." Vehicles names most requested are "Mustang,"

"Porsche," "Trans Am," "Ferrari" and "Corvette." Among the most unusual requests are "Chicago," "GoGo Sox," "Cubs Fan," "Win Ugly," "Sue Them," "Film But" and "The Dome." Occupations also are well represented with requests such as "Attorney," "Teacher," "Trucker" and "Realtor."

"The most equitable way to award popular plates is through a public lottery where everyone has an equal chance to receive their favorite plate," Edgar said.

"In its relatively short life, the vanity plate program has proven to be immensely popular and expansion of plate possibilities from six to seven letters should make it even more so," Edgar said.

More than 63,000 pairs of vanity plates have been sold since the program started in 1980, generating more than $3.6 million for the repair and construction of Illinois roads and highways.

Written requests for seven-letter plates should be sent to Secretary of State Jim Edgar, Personalized Plate Section, Room 324, Centennial Building, Springfield, Ill. 62756.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1984, as a result of legislation passed by the General Assembly, the one-time vanity fee will increase to $75. Registration fees will increase to $36 for automobiles 35 horsepower or under and $48 for those over 35 horsepower. The $10 annual vanity plate fee, which is in addition to the one-time $75 fee, was not increased by the General Assembly.

The new vanity plate law allows to seven letters to be displayed. Illinois law prohibits use of punctuation on license plates to prevent confusion and permit better identification of license plates by law enforcement agencies.

Recognition to all GC schools

Dr. Donald G. Gill, state superintendent of education, has extended full recognition to Granite City Community Unit School District Nine and all its schools for the 1983-84 school term.

Supt. Gill said his decision this month is based on "information developed as a consequence of the last evaluation of your district's total education program conducted by the Public School Approval Section, Department of Recognition and Supervision, of this office."

"This evaluation included a careful study of your annual report, a review of conditions found at the time of your last state recognition visit, and the recommendation of Regional Supt. of School (Harold E. Briggs)."

"It is important that you (Supt. B. J. Davis), as the educational leader of your school community, as well as the members of your Board of Education, make every effort to maintain adequate and appropriate educational opportunities for the young people of your school district. Through your professional efforts, as well as those of community and staff, quality educational programs can be achieved."

"I encourage you to continue to identify the educational needs of your students and to also evaluate the educational programs of your school district in order to keep pace with the increasingly difficult challenges of our society."

"Be assured that the services of the Illinois State Board of Education are available at all times. It is our desire to join with you in providing the best educational opportunities available for the boys and girls of your school district."

Burglary leads to 4-year term

Circuit Judge P.J. O'Neill has sentenced George Hansel, 18, of 2231 State St. to four years in a state prison for an April 26 burglary.

Hansel pleaded guilty June 20 and was sentenced later at the Madison County Courthouse in Edwardsville.

Seminar on home financing

Persons interested in obtaining more information about the varied methods of financing new and existing homes are being invited to attend Realty World Star, Inc.'s Home Financing Information Night Monday, Dec. 12, which will be open to the general public. "This night may prove valuable, especially to persons considering purchasing or selling real estate in today's market," according to John Blasingame of Realty World, Star.

Types of financing discussed will be the new state bond program offering fixed interest rates not to exceed 10.95 percent for first time homebuyers, VA, FHA, loan assumption, contract for deed, adjustable rate loans, lease-purchase, Pamme Mae and "Rich Uncle" programs.

Representatives from the financial industry will be present to answer questions concerning these areas of financing.

According to James Hollifield, president of the St. Louis Home Builders' Association, home buyers who do not familiarize themselves with the intricacies of the various adjustable-rate mortgages now widely used by savings and loan institutions may be their own worst enemies when they shop for mortgage financing. "The new loans, which carry interest rates that are raised or lowered periodically to reflect what savings and loan associations are paying for their deposits, are the wave of the future," Hollifield said.

With some of the new methods available, buyers whose incomes did not qualify for mortgages last year should ask that their housing expenses be recalculated at today's rates. They may be surprised at what a difference only a few points in interest can make, Hollifield suggested.

The meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. Monday at the offices of Realty World Star, Inc., 3701 Nameoki Road. There will be no charge for persons attending, but reservations should be made in advance by calling 876-0024.

INTERFERES WITH TRAFFIC

Ricky D. Hanebutt, 22, who said he lived in northern Illinois, was charged during the weekend with disorderly conduct after leaning on to a woman motorist's car and initially refusing to leave it at 18th Street and Madison Avenue. He next walked north through traffic, attempting to stop various autos. The arrest occurred at Madison and 20th Street, where an officer said Hanebutt jumped into the police car and said, "Take me to jail," concluding his request by calling the policeman a profane name. Associate Judge Thomas Hildebrand fined the man $69.

MADISON WARRANT ARREST

Acting on a 1982 warrant alleging disorderly conduct, Madison police arrested Glen C. Dixon, 49, of 2032 Omaha Ave. this week in the 1100 block of Greenwood Street.

medical technicians. The paramedic training is part of the state Advanced Life Support Mobile Intensive Care (ALS-MIC) program to increase the level of care provided at the scene of an emergency and during transport to the hospital.

Anderson Hospital was designated in September by the state as the ALS-MIC resource hospital for eastern Madison County. It is conducting the paramedic training program as a service to area fire departments and other emergency service units.

Daniel A. Hicks, hospital administrator, said, "We are pleased to have the opportunity to be associated with ALS-MIC program. It provides the most advanced emergency services network available; truly bringing the hospital to the emergency scene. Training our community's paramedics is a very important step in this effort."

The training program will consist of 12 to 16 hours a week of classroom instruction, observation and clinical experience. Candidates for intermediate-level certification (EMT-I) will follow a four-month curriculum that includes use of intravenous devices, tools to free blocked airways and anti-shock treatment. Candidates for advanced paramedic certification (EMT-P) will study these subjects, along with others, including administering of medication and cardiac life-support techniques in their year-long curriculum.

To receive certification, candidates must pass a state examination following completion of training. They also must successfully execute a series of actual emergency runs under an instructor's supervision.

Fifteen participants were chosen from 31 applicants for the program. Hicks said his class size was limited to 15 to provide for maximum quality of instruction. He said he expects the next series of training classes to begin in late 1984, with one intermediate-level class and one paramedic-level class being graduated each year.

Program participants are from fire departments in Edwardsville, Hamel and Maryville, and from private ambulance services in Belleville, Granite City, Red Bud and Troy.

Instruction for the program is supervised by Dr. E.J. Aragona, the hospital's emergency medical services director. Mark Wilkinson of the hospital, is nurse coordinator for the program and Richard Berry of the Edwardsville Fire Department and the hospital is the paramedic coordinator. Belleville Area College is granting course credit to program participants.

Besides providing training for community paramedics, Anderson Hospital is participating in the ALS-MIC program through establishing radio communications with emergency service units. Radio equipment at the hospital allows life-support vehicles to transmit patient data directly to the hospital emergency room. Hospital physicians can advise the paramedic team on appropriate on-scene treatment and prepare for the prompt start of care upon the patient's arrival at the hospital.

Anderson Hospital is a 140-bed facility located on Illinois Route 162, just east of Route 159, serving Collinsville, Edwardsville, Maryville, Glen Carbon, Troy and surrounding communities.

School lighting supply contracts

Lighting supplies of the Granite City school system are to be provided by three firms—United Electric Supply for fluorescent ballasts, Villa Lighting Supply for projection lamps and City Lighting Products for incandescent lamps, fluorescent tubes and starters, and mercury vapor lamps.

Thirteen companies received bid forms and seven responded with quotations. Based on the price competition, the district this week designated its supply sources for the 1984 calendar year.

Canadian Micro is to repair seven damaged computer modules for $75 each, a total of $525.

With the closing of GCHS North, the secretarial laboratory containing business education computers was moved to GCHS, the former GCHS South.

"Since then we have had multiple problems with the networking system that connects the computers to the printers and disk drives," Thomas Holloway, director of vocational and career education, told the Board of Education.

"Ronald Landman, director of buildings and grounds, has isolated the problem in the electrical system and has taken steps to correct the situation. However, the seven modules need to be repaired."

Kienstra Inc. of Granite City has been designated as construction materials supplier for ready-mix concrete, Meramec sand, river sand, limestone, slag, masonry cement and Portland cement.

Insurance costs cut by schools

Granite City school district insurance rates for 1984 are being increased by the General American Life Insurance Co. (Geneco) but overall insurance costs will show a decrease in District Nine.

Approval of new rates as of Jan. 1 was voted Tuesday night by the Board of Education, which concurred with recommendations of Mrs. Karen Szedlar, coordinator of insurance services for the school system.

She related that "present life insurance rates again will be in effect for the upcoming policy year. An increase in premium will not be necessary, based on a recent review of group statistics."

"We have received 1984 renewal information from Geneco on the administrative fee we pay them to administer our health claims, as well as the stop-loss premium paid for reinsurance coverage."

"The monthly administrative service fee for 1983 is $3.25 per employee. Geneco is requesting approval of a 25 cents per employee increase to $3.50 per employee per month."

"Geneco is recommending we renew our stop-loss coverage, which is underwritten by Lloyd's of London. Our 1983 monthly premium for this coverage has been $1.40 per employee. Lloyd's is proposing a 25 cents per employee increase to $1.65."

"The renewal quotation of stop-loss was based on our August group enrollment of 891 members. Since payment of a minimum annual premium is required, we requested that an adjustment be made."

"This has been granted and our premium will be based on the January enrollment figure, anticipated to be 862. The result will be a decrease of $574 in the minimum annual premium to a fairer figure of $17,067."

"The attachment point set by Geneco for 1984 was $1,703,236. This means Lloyd's would begin paying claims should our claim payments exceed that amount."

"Since that figure, too, had been based on August, we requested an adjustment to the anticipated January enrollment. An adjusted attachment point of $1,647,799 has now been confirmed."

"Based on projected group enrollment figures for 1984, our total costs compared to 1983 (plan administered by Great-West and 1983 (administered by Geneco) are expected to be:

"For 1982-83-84, administrative fee $60,333 (including the premium paid to process run-off of 1982 claims, paid in the first three months of the following year, $55,142 and $55,494."

"Also for 1982-83-84, stop-loss premium $3,600, $15,708 and $17,607. Grand totals, $63,933, $50,850 and $50,552."

At the suggestion of Board Member Tom Miosky, she will analyze health care cost trends of recent years for future study by the board.

Teacher, carpenter plan for retirement

Two retirements were approved Tuesday night by the Granite City Board of Education.

James E. Reid, a Granite City High School industrial arts teacher, plans to retire in June 1986 after more than 30 years with the district.

James Harlan, a carpenter on the school district's maintenance staff, initially designated June 1986 but now plans to retire March 1, 1985.

Reid said, "It has been a pleasure to work with the many fine people it takes to operate a school district of this size."

"My work in the district has been made especially rewarding because of the many fine students that I have had the opportunity to be associated with."

"In the last several years I have also had the opportunity to work with a great number of businesses of our community who have contributed greatly toward the education of our students who were fortunate enough to be a part of our cooperative educational program."

"I thank all the people of this district and community for maintaining an excellent educational system which gave my son a firm foundation for success in this world. Thank you for allowing me to be part of this educational system and the community and may the system continue to give quality education to all of the future graduates."

David A. Culp, an honorably dismissed teacher, resigned effective Dec. 5. He has accepted a teaching position at Normandy High School. A former North High art faculty member, he was employed in School District Nine from August 1971 until this summer.

The board permitted Mrs. Evelyn Glotik, Mitchell School secretary, to change her scheduled retirement date from Dec. 31, 1983, to Jan. 9, 1984.

GC woman robbed by man with gun

Julie Woodrome, 267 Sunny Shores Mobile Home Park, told Venice police at 10 p.m. Sunday that she was robbed by a man with a gun while she was waiting in her car for her boyfriend, near LC and Lee's Tavern.

Miss Woodrome said while she was sitting there, a back male came up and opened the front passenger door and came in and sat down. The man asked her for a light and, before she could answer, he produced a .38 steel revolver and pointed it at her.

He told her that he would kill her if she did not give him all of her money. She handed him her purse. Contents of the purse included a date book, a coin purse with a driver's license in it, house keys, a set of car keys, a checkbook, two gold hearts, a pair of earrings and $7 in food stamps.

Venice police are investigating the case.

Representative Sam Wolf seeks re-election to Illinois House

State Representative Sam Wolf (D-Granite City), has announced he will seek re-election to the Illinois House of Representatives from the 11th Legislative District.

Wolf is serving his fourth term in the General Assembly and presently serves as chairman of the House Personnel and Pensions Committee. He also is a member of Committees on Elections, Executive, Financial Institutions and Transportation and Motor Vehicles.

In addition to serving on the preceding House Committees, Wolf serves as chairman of the Legislative Council and is a member of commissions on Motor Vehicle Laws, Insurance Laws Study, Southwest Illinois Planning, International Trade and Port Promotion and Pension Laws.

"During my tenure in Springfield, I feel I have built a solid record of service and commitment to my constituents and I want to continue that service," Wolf said. "I understand the needs of those in my district and I can get things done for my district."

According to Wolf, some of his accomplishments during the past sessions include: passage of the Economic Recovery Bill to create more jobs by using private capital and a minimum of state credit; passage of the Motor Safety Bill for Motorcycles, which requires persons under 18 to complete a motorcycle training course before receiving a motorcycle driver's license, and passage of legislation to change vehicle lighting requirements for motorcycles to make them more visible.

He also cites accomplishments as passage of a bill which makes Illinois the 31st member of the non-resident violators compact; passage of a bill to continue mandatory licensing of Certified Public Accountants, and passage of a bill that tightens liability requirements for rental vehicles.

Wolf worked closely with House Speaker Mike Madigan on bills which addressed issues such as economic recovery, utility reform, hazardous waste and senior citizens. "The economic recovery bill, which I co-sponsored, was well planned and will be executed by business, labor and the financial community working together with the state government," said Wolf. "The big winners are the citizens of Illinois who get more jobs and increased revenues, but pay nothing."

Wolf also supported a comprehensive series of utility reforms initiated by Speaker Madigan. The key to utility reform was the formation of Illinois' first-ever Citizen's Utility Board.

Wolf says one of his constant concerns has been reducing the tax burden on Illinois residents, particularly senior citizens. He supported bills setting up the senior citizens' "Circuit Breaker" and "Homestead Exemption" programs as well as the bills which eliminated the state inheritance tax and took state sales taxes off foods and medicines.

"We must continue to fight for programs that assure the health and well-being of our citizens," Wolf said. "We must also work with business and labor to help our state regain its prominence among the leading states in the nation. District will again show their approval of my efforts on their behalf and re-elect me to another term in the Illinois House."

76 local students included in 'Who's Who' volume

A total of 76 students from this area have been included in the 17th annual edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students, 1982-83."

"Who's Who," published by Educational Communications, Inc., Lake Forest, Ill., is the largest high school recognition publication in the country. The 17th edition of "Who's Who," published in nine regional volumes, features 375,000 students, or five percent of the nation's 7.5 million high school juniors and seniors. They represent 18,000 of the 22,000 public, private and parochial high schools in the country.

"Who's Who" students also compete for more than $50,000 in scholarship awards and participate in the publication's annual opinion poll of teen attitudes. The book is distributed on a complimentary basis to more than 15,000 high schools, colleges, universities and public libraries throughout the country.

Illinois U.S. Teen Pageant slated

For the first time, Illinois teens, 13 to 19, will be eligible to participate in the 1984 Miss Illinois U.S. Teen Pageant. Although the national pageant is in its 14th year, this is the first time Illinois has participated, even though the state has had more national beauty pageant winners than any other.

The 1984 Miss Illinois U.S. Teen Pageant will be held Saturday, March 10, at the Mattoon Holiday Inn. The winner will advance to the national Miss U.S. Teen Pageant taking place in August 1984 in Alabama.

Judging is based on scholastic achievement, poise, personality, community involvement, appearance and evening gown competition. There is no swimsuit or talent competition. Applications can be obtained by writing Mrs. Marian Hasara, Illinois state director, 5940 McKinley St., Merrillville, Ind. 46410.

Capt. Nargelenas named chief of state police

Governor James R. Thompson has appointed Capt. Laimutis A. Nargelenas as superintendent of the Illinois State Police.

Nargelenas, 35, has been assistant director of the Division of Criminal Investigation, Department of Law Enforcement, since Feb. 1, when he left as commander of the State Police post for this area. He replaces R. J. Miller as chief of the Illinois State Police, effective Jan. 1.

Miller, 48, who has been superintendent since 1979, leaves to become assistant director for state and local programs at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center in Glynn, Ga.

"Chief Miller has been an outstanding superintendent of the State Police and I know that he will be very successful in his new career and we wish him the best," the governor said.

"Limey Nargelenas is a professional law enforcement officer and I am confident he will make an excellent superintendent," the governor said. "The Illinois State Police is the finest group of law enforcement officers in the nation and Chief Nargelenas will carry on that tradition."

Born in Wattenstadt, Germany, on Jan. 11, 1948, he was the son of a former Lithuanian police officer who fought in the resistance during World War II. He moved with his family to Georgetown, Ill., when he was three years old.

Nargelenas served as an Illinois State Trooper from 1969 to 1974 performing general law enforcement duties. During that time, 1970 and 1971, he was an Army military police officer and completed his duty in Korea as an assistant provost sergeant.

From 1974 to 1975 he served as the physical training officer at the Illinois State Police Academy, Springfield. From 1975 to 1976 he was operations officer at the Academy.

Nargelenas became director of the Curriculum Development Section at the Training Academy in 1977 and served there until 1979 when he became director of training.

He was appointed commander of State Police District 11 at Maryville in 1981 and served there until appointed Assistant DCI Director last February.

He received his bachelor's degree in social justice from Sangamon State University in 1976 and a master of arts degree in legal studies in 1978. He currently is working on a doctor of philosophy degree in education at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale.

Seedling packets are offered by the state

"Wildlife" and "Songbird" seedling packets, composed of tree and shrub species beneficial in creating or restoring wild life habitat, are available at nominal cost from the Illinois Department of Conservation.

In the songbird packets are 25 each of bush honeysuckle, gray dogwood, hazelnut and American plum seedlings. The $13.50 charge includes shipping.

The larger wildlife packets are offered in northern and southern forms that contain species best suited to growth in each half of the state. The northern packets include 100 each of white pine, white oak, black cherry, gray dogwood and bush honeysuckle. The southern packet consists of 100 each of white pine, pin oak, black cherry, pecan and gray dogwood. Either wildlife packet is $27, including delivery.

For more forms and shipping information, interested persons may write to the Conservation Department's Division of Forest Resources and Natural Heritage, 524 S. Second St., Springfield, Ill., 62706 or contact local University of Illinois Extension Service offices, county Soil Conservation Service offices, or Department of Conservation regional or district offices.

The packet sale is aimed at mitigating habitat loss, cited by wildlife resource managers as the primary reason for wildlife's decline. Reversal of this downward trend in bird and animal populations will require extensive restoration of habitat and much of the restoration and reforestation in Illinois must be done on private land.

Because habitat restoration or redevelopment does not require large land areas and can be accomplished on small tracts not suitable for other purposes, the small packets of seedlings are effective. If the seedling groups, formulated to appeal to animals and birds, are planted near water, the habitat will be relatively complete and almost certainly will attract wildlife permanently.

According to State Forester Al Mickelson, the packet sale also provides sportsperson with a good means of showing appreciation to the private landowners who own their properties to hunting, fishing and other recreational uses. "Why not buy a packet in the landowner's name," he suggests. Planting the seedlings with the help of fellow sportsperson can produce an enjoyable weekend recreational experience for everyone involved in the project while they, the recipient and wildlife all gain, Mickelson added.

Further information on the program can be obtained by calling the Division of Forest Resources and Natural Heritage at 1-217-782-2361.

Six-year term for assaulting girl, 10

Circuit Judge Philip J. Harick this fall sentenced Luciano Louis Ruggeri, 50, of 2606 Kirkpatrick Homes to a six-year state penitentiary term.

A charge of taking indecent liberties with a child was obtained by Granite City police Sept. 6. After an information was issued by State Attorney Don W. Weber, the defendant was taken to the Madison County Jail Sept. 7.

Ruggeri pleaded guilty Nov. 15, court records show.

The investigation began after a Granite City woman told the police that her daughter, 10, had been sexually assaulted Sept. 1.

Ruggeri initially was taken into custody Sept. 3 after a fight with another man.

6-element sentence is ordered by judge

Laurie Brame, 22, of 1911 Sken St., Madison, has been placed by Circuit Judge Philip Harick on 30-month probation, ordered to participate in 50 hours of public service employment, sentenced to six months in the Madison County jail, fined $200, assessed $20 special costs, and instructed to make restitution of $30.

A forgery occurred in the unincorporated area of this county. It was alleged in a charge initially filed Sept. 15, 1981. A guilty plea was submitted Aug. 26, 1983.

The defendant was accused in September 1979 of two counts of delivering a controlled substance.

Investor Alert out on buying precious metals

Information on how to safely invest in precious metals is the subject of the third "Investor Alert" provided by the Illinois Secretary of State Jim Edgar and the Illinois Better Business Bureau.

"Traditionally considered safe, stable investments, the purchase of precious metals such as gold and silver has become more risky lately because of the activities of a few questionable dealers," Edgar said.

"Investors are often offered gold or silver at below market prices if they will agree to pay up front and wait for the metals to be delivered within a specified period of time. Under the scheme, purchasers may be offered a percentage of their investment as a 'rebate' if they agree to delay taking delivery of the metals," Edgar said.

He said that if the price of gold or silver goes up and a dealer is then unable to meet his commitments, consumers risk losing part or all of their investment.

Edgar said that Illinois residents are among the 25,000 investors from 22 states and Canada that have filed millions of dollars in claims against a Florida precious metals dealer whose firm went bankrupt.

Consumers should be particularly careful when investing in gold or silver because many of the firms selling precious metals are subject to little state or federal regulation.

"As a result, there is little regulatory agencies can do to protect consumers until a fraud is discovered," Edgar said, "and by then it is often too late to recover lost investments."

The secretary of state's Securities Department, which registers all securities offered for sale in Illinois, also is responsible for investigating reports of investor fraud and violations of the Illinois Securities Act.

The "Investor Alert" program is provided by state securities regulators and the Better Business Bureau to educate the public and alert them to potentially fraudulent situations.

More information on the "Investor Alert" program is available from the Securities Department in Springfield and Chicago.

Classes offered for dislocated workers

Plant closings and indefinite layoffs have become a way of life for many Madison County workers. However, due to a grant from the state, the Center for Assessment, Retraining and Employment (CARE) has been established to assist these workers in acquiring more marketable job skills. "We are targeted towards those workers who have been released because of technological improvements or plant closings such as Owens-Illinois, Laclede Steel and A.O. Smith," program administrator Don Young said. "These are people who have been working for a company for a number of years, who after all of that time, are now on the outside. Their skills are not in demand anymore."

CARE will be setting up classes and training through local institutions such as the Granite City Center of Belleville Area College, Venice Lincoln Technical Center, Lewis and Clark Community College and Kaskaskia College. All training must meet the approval of the Illinois Bureau of Employment Security. This is to insure training in current job market demand areas. Currently, the Dislocated Workers Program is enrolling eligible people in one-day job shops which teach job search skills, such as how to fill out applications, read want ads and prepare a resume.

Another program, Career Search, is a self-directed, intensified job search class which taps the hidden job market. Participants learn telephone techniques, resume preparation, how to interview, follow-up on job leads and how to transfer their job experience to current job openings.

Persons who want to apply for the program may go to Job Service office in American Village Shopping Center to complete applications. The applications will then be forwarded to the Dislocated Worker's staff in Edwardsville for prioritizing using such criteria as length of time unemployed and number of dependents. Persons with high priority will be called for further evaluation at the Edwardsville office.

Schools approve of but do not sponsor an ice hockey team

There is a Granite City High School ice hockey team, but GCHS does not sponsor such a team. A memorandum of understanding was adopted Tuesday night to clarify those two facts.

The memorandum approved by the Board of Education puts into writing a relationship that dates back to the 1970s.

The Granite City "Club" Hockey Association is empowered to use the name of the school for identification and to meet Mid-States Hockey Association requirements.

However, the school district historically has refrained from financial support and supervisory responsibility. It accepts no liability for participants, coaches, cheerleaders or spectators involved in the club program.

The memorandum asserts that the school system's obligation is only in the granting of permission to use the school name. "All operating procedures, expenses, program content, supervisory functions, liability, travel, etc." are the responsibility of the Granite City association and of parents of the participants.

Participants are not considered to be members of a school-sponsored athletic team and are not entitled to school district athletic awards, banquets or letter club membership.

School public address announcements and other information disseminated by the high school are subject to the principal's review and approval. Club adult officers are to meet each November with the principal and school district athletic director to reaffirm the memorandum as well as discuss other aspects of the ice hockey program.

Joe Pedora, director of athletics and physical education, said use of the school name by the ice hockey squad was authorized Sept. 5, 1978. Some confusion over the school's non-role began developing this fall, centering on responsibility for the supervision of cheerleaders. School officials met with parents and hockey officers, leading to the decision to prepare the memorandum.

MAN CHARGED WITH DISORDERLY CONDUCT
Theodore Garth Jr., 35, East St. Louis, was arrested Sunday by Venice police and charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. Garth allegedly was bothering his wife, who is in the process of getting a divorce from him. When police arrived on the scene, Garth allegedly forced his way into his wife's residence and started chasing her. Police pursued and when they placed Garth under arrest, he allegedly broke loose and was later apprehended. When police brought him into the station, a warrant was found on file for Garth on a battery allegation. Garth was released to pay a $125 fine for disorderly conduct. He pleaded not guilty to the resisting arrest charge.

REPAYMENT AND PROBATION FOR DECEPTIVE PRACTICE

Census includes area farm workers

The U.S. Bureau of the Census will conduct a regular survey on employment and unemployment in this area during the week of December 12 to 17, 1983 according to Marvin L. Postma, director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Kansas City.

In addition to the usual questions on "current employment," the December survey will include others concerning hired farm workers. Some of the questions that will be asked concern the number of days hired farm workers did farm and nonfarm work, their wages for farm and nonfarm work, and the number of farm wage workers migrating to other counties and states to do farm work.

Households in this area are part of the sample of 72,000 across the country scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all U.S. households.

The monthly survey is conducted for the U.S. Department of Labor and provides a continuous record of activity in the labor force. The October survey indicated that of the 114.9 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 101.9 million were employed. The nation's unemployment rate was 8.3 percent, down from the 9.3 percent reported in September.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.

New directory lists agency resources

Copies of the 1983-1984 "Madison County Community Resource Directory" now are available at the office of Harold Briggs, Regional Superintendent of Schools of Madison County at 201 Hillsboro, Edwardsville.

Publication of the directory was made possible through a recent Illinois State Board of Education grant awarded the Madison County. Directories have been supplied to all of the school districts in the county.

The directory lists agency resources available to Madison County youth and their families and will enable community members in need of services to more readily contact appropriate resources in their local areas.

Further information concerning the directory may be obtained by calling Janet Naezer, Director, or Cullen Cullen, Social Worker, Madison County Truants Alternative Program at 876-2383, 1-254-9087 or 1-258-9088.

Exchange programs offer understanding

International Youth Exchange, a presidential initiative to encourage exchanges of young people between this country and its allies, has received bipartisan support and the strong endorsement of educators and corporate leaders.

Perhaps the reason so much high-level attention has been given to student exchange programs is because leaders have discovered that an international living experience is one of the best ways to foster respect, understanding and appreciation for other cultures. In a world where people are increasingly concerned about nuclear war, where technological advances bring us in daily contact with other countries and, where economic and political concerns make us truly interdependent, this kind of personal understanding is needed more than ever, a spokesman said.

In this area, a local exchange organization called Youth for Understanding, has been bringing the world together for 23 years through family-based international living experiences for high school students. As YFU points out, students who spend time abroad come back well prepared to meet the challenges of colleges and careers. They have matured, demonstrated their ability to live in an overseas environment, acquired valuable language skills and gained an understanding and appreciation of both the country they visited and their own.

For more information on program requirements, fees, deadlines or procedures, interested persons may call Youth for Understanding, 1616 E. Roosevelt Road, Suite 9, Wheaton, Ill., 60187, telephone 1-312-952-7452.

STATE LABOR RELATIONS BOARD WILL BE CREATED

The new Illinois collective bargaining law for local and state employees creates an Illinois Educational Labor Relations Board to serve as a monitoring agency for conduct of union elections, foster uniformity in election procedures, and investigate unfair practices.

The law defines supervisors, outlines the role of regional school superintendents, and sets up an Illinois Education Mediation Roster available for arbitration of school grievances and for mediation and arbitration of school contract disputes.

104 Members of Congress Say
The British Steel Deal Is

"...NOT IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST"

More than 100 Members of the U.S. House of Representatives have cosponsored a Resolution opposing a proposed deal to import millions of tons of subsidized semi-finished steel into the United States. In their words, the venture is:

"... not in the best interests of the United States, the domestic steel industry and the steelworkers ..."

For months preceding his untimely death, United Steelworkers of America President Lloyd McBride dedicated himself and the resources of our Union to defeat this scheme. The Union's leaders and membership overwhelmingly supported him in this endeavor.

We, who follow him, will continue this fight. To the public, the Congress, the Reagan Administration, and especially to the United States Steel Corporation, we say that we are united behind our late President's program on this issue. We pledge ourselves to its successful conclusion.

He often said, and we repeat, that if United States Steel and British Steel do agree between themselves on this deal, we will fight it before the International Trade Commission, before Congress, in public forums, and in every other way available to us.

We are pleased that so many Members of Congress have joined the fight. Their cosponsorship of the Resolution took courage. They clearly spelled out the dangers in these words:

"... A new unfair competitive factor would be injected into the domestic market, forcing other domestic steel companies to seek similar arrangements, thus reducing raw steelmaking capacity, exacerbating unemployment and creating a threat to national security and the general economy."

The future of the steel industry in the United States will determine the futures of hundreds of thousands of steelworkers, and hundreds of communities. But it involves more—in truth it involves the whole nation. We are determined to prevent two corporations, one domestic and one foreign, from deciding the nation's industrial future on the basis of their own narrow interests.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION 170

Whereas the proposed joint venture between the United States Steel Corporation and the British Steel Corporation for the importation of semifinished steel slabs is not in the public interest;

Whereas the proposed joint venture would result in the loss of at least three thousand direct steel-making jobs and an additional five thousand and four hundred jobs in the support of steelmaking in the Fairless, Pennsylvania area;

Whereas, if the proposed joint venture results in an agreement and steel is imported into the United States, there may be possible violations of United States laws regarding unfair trade practices and a violation of the recently negotiated United States-European Community steel arrangement under paragraph 10, which states that consultations will be held between the parties when a significant increase in imports indicates the possibility of diversion of trade from arrangement products to certain steel products other than arrangement products; and

Whereas, if the proposed joint venture goes through, a new unfair competitive factor would be injected into the domestic market, forcing other domestic steel companies to seek similar arrangements, thus reducing raw steel-making capacity exacerbating unemployment and creating a threat to national security and the general economy. Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), That it is the sense of the Congress that—

(1) The proposed joint venture between the United States Steel Corporation and the British Steel Corporation is not in the best interests of the United States, the domestic industry, and the steelworkers; and

(2) The Secretary of Commerce exercises all the powers of his office to take action under existing laws including the invocation of paragraph 10 of the United States-European Community steel arrangement to determine if there are any violations.

Trojans not quite there; lose to McKinley

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

MADISON — Madison basketball coach Larry Graham admits the Madison Trojans are closer to what he would like them to be than they were last week. Yet, the Trojans aren't quite there.

The Trojans dropped a 77-74 decision to McKinley, which is supposed to be one of the powerhouses of the St. Louis Public High League this season. However, the game was one the Trojans could have won.

"We cut down on our turnovers, but we made some big ones with three minutes to go in the game," Graham said. "We lost the ball a few times and they missed a couple of easy lay-ups. Plus, we missed a big free throw towards the end that could have won it for us."

Madison, trailing by one at the end of the third quarter after Reggie Banks scored with a second left, Madison stayed within a basket until McKinley was hit with a rash of foul troubles.

McKinley's Ronald Gray committed his fourth and fifth fouls midway through the quarter. The fouls allowed the Trojans' Michael Young to score four throws to give Madison a 64-62 lead. McKinley continue to answer the Trojans until the 3:37 mark when McKinley's Dwayne Wright missed the second of two free throws.

That and a foul by McKinley's Gerald Harris allowed DeLloyd Williams to make two free throws to put Madison ahead 68-65 with 3:31 left. Harris' fifth foul with 2:33 left put Hughes back on the line, and he responded with two more free throws to give Madison a five point lead.

It didn't stay that way for long. McKinley Robert Turner scored on a pair of free throws and stole the ball to set up a basket by Monroe Douglas.

Douglas, McKinley's leading scorer with 23 points, fouled out of the game with 1:58. Madison had a chance to expand the lead, but Hughes, previously hot at the line, missed, and Turner picked up the rebound. With 1:30 left, Turner put McKinley ahead by one with a basket.

Young and Toronald Lee traded baskets to keep, but the big blows were yet to come.

Banks missed a shot from inside with slightly less than a minute left, and the rebound took a hard bounce off the backboard into the hands of Lee, who dribbled it all the way down the court for a lay-up with 49 seconds left. Lee scored 10 seconds earlier to put McKinley ahead for good.

On the ensuing throw-in, the pass rolled off the fingers of Valentine and out-of-bounds, and the ball went back to McKinley. After two Trojans fouls, Turner capped the game with two free throws.

Madison tried to get back in the game after Banks scored with five seconds left. However, neither Young nor Banks were able to score after Williams stole McKinley's in-bounds pass at midcourt.

Every single player did their jobs the way they were supposed to. Even when we got in foul trouble, the kids on the bench were ready to go," McKinley Coach Jimmy Cook said.

At first the fouls troubled Cook and his players, but they accepted the fouls as a fact of life late in the fourth quarter.

"I thought the officials called a good game, but I was listening too much to the players and the fans got me saying cruel things about the calls. Then I remember what our principal, Mr. (James) Price said about keeping my composure on the bench."

"He's a man of heart. He rode me last year when I had trouble, but when the players and I remember what he said, we can hold our composure. It is because of him we won this game," Cook said.

Indeed, Madison corrected many of its mistakes it made in the first two games. The Trojans only committed 16 turnovers as compared to 24 against Pinckneyville. The Trojans also made 16 of 22, a much better average they did against the Panthers.

The only problem was the timing of the mistakes.

"We made the offensive mistakes and we also let up a little bit on our pressure towards the end, and put the ball in there. We have to work on the mistakes as hard as we can in practices, and we have to capitalize on the mistakes we've made now for the future," Graham said.

"I still think we can have a good team this year. We have to learn how to play a whole game and not just part of one. If we can get a couple of more players to play harder, we can be tough," Graham said.

Madison, 1-2 for the year, will try to even its record against 1-1 Venice Friday at Madison. A limited amount of advanced tickets will be available at the two schools, and if those tickets are sold, no tickets will be available at the game.

Trojanettes trounce McKinley Goldbugs

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

MADISON — How much of a mismatch was the Madison Trojanette's season opening 86-15 win over McKinley High School (St. Louis)?

It was probably the biggest high school mismatch of the season. As soon as McKinley High School's girls basketball team put the ball on the court, the game, for all intents and purposes, was over.

Madison's swarming full-court press was all over the hapless Goldbugs. With the Trojans doubling teaming the player with the ball, there was little hope for McKinley to get the ball down the court.

By the time McKinley's Brendine Campbell scored her team's first point of the game with 1:54 left in the first quarter, Madison rolled to a 22-1 lead.

Mercifully for the Goldbugs, the pressure shortly after gaining the insurmountable lead. Even when Madison went to a half-court zone, McKinley failed to threaten the Trojanettes.

"It was the pressure that did them in," Madison Coach Carol Cole said. "That's our bread and butter, and we'll do it every time because we do it well. That's always been our strongest point."

Needless to say, the game was one in which everyone got to play. Regina Banks led everyone with 22 points. Meanwhile, Kim Stanley scored 13 points. Angie Shipp put in 12 points, and Stephanie Walker added 10 more for the Trojans.

"Regina's doing what she's supposed to be doing. She's following up the middle, getting the rebound and scoring. If she can do that all season, she'll be in good shape," Cole said.

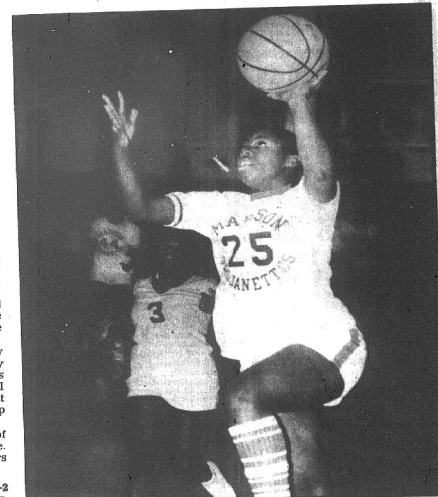

The game was so much out of hand that Cole didn't bother to look up the scoreboard until the end of the game.

"I knew we were winning just by looking at the game. When I finally looked up at the scoreboard, I was amazed to see 86 points up there. I had no idea we were winning by that much, and I wasn't trying to run up the score because I used everyone."

Campbell scored all but two of McKinley's points in the game. McKinley committed 29 turnovers during the game.

McKINLEY (15): Campbell 6 1-2 13, Clay 0 0-0 0, Farmer 0 0-0 0, Jerigan 1 0-0 2, FG 7, FT 1 6, PF 8.

MADISON (86): Banks 10 2-2 22, Dandridge 4 0-0 8, Shipp 6 0-0 12, Stanley 6 1-1 13, Walker 5 0-0 10, Goes 1 0-0 2, Harris 3 0-0 6, Heard 2 1-2 5, Riley 3 2-2 8, FG 46, FT 67, PF 5.

EASY TWO. Robin Harris (25), a reserve guard for the Madison Trojanettes, goes up for an easy two points Tuesday. Madison demolished McKinley 86-15 in the season opener for the Trojanettes.

Warrior cagers prepare for Maroons

By ALAN L. GERSTENBECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — It isn't critical yet, but the Warriors are getting there.

That's the way Granite City High School basketball coach Don Deterding assesses his team as they prepare for Saturday's matchup with perennial power Belleville West.

"It's getting more important all the time that we get a win," Deterding said. "We came into this season very optimistic — with the consolidation of schools. To keep that optimism, we're going to have to get a win soon."

The Warriors, now 0-4 after last week's loss to Quincy Notre Dame, meet the Maroons at West Saturday night at 6:30 p.m.

According to Deterding, the Warriors lack consistency on the court. In particular, the Warriors don't have a consistent passing game. Thus far, it's that shortcoming which has contributed to their demise.

"We're playing fine ball for 80 percent of the game. It's that other 20 percent of the time that's killing us," he said.

To try and rectify that shortcoming, Deterding has reworked his lineup. Starters for Saturday's game will include regular starters Scott Cant, a 6-foot-5 junior center, Jeff Gray, a 6-foot-1 junior guard, Gary Apperson, a 6-foot-5 senior forward, and two newcomers — Jeb Blasingame, a 6-foot-2 junior forward and Joe Gray, a 5-foot-10 sophomore point guard.

The inclusion of Blasingame and Joe Gray, younger brother of Jeff, Deterding hopes, will improve the Warriors' passing game.

"Right now, we're looking for the right group of five guys, the right combination. We're looking for the athletes who can pass with more 'regularity,'" Deterding said. "At 0-4, we had to make some changes."

"Basically, I think Jeb's a good passer. I feel like we're not getting the ball down court. I think he and Joe Gray can help us do that."

Deterding also said that he plans to use Blasingame and Joe Gray as feeders to Cant and Jeff Gray. Currently, Cant is averaging 15 points per game while Jeff Gray is averaging 16 points a game.

The "new" Warrior lineup will face an annually tough West team in its premier Saturday night.

Although, "Maroon coach Roger Mueller has called this year's West team 'about the smallest he's ever had,'" the 0-1 Maroons are expected to be a worthy opponent.

"We're not very big, but we're a spirited team. We want desperately to win," Mueller said.

The West coach said he doesn't know what to expect of his team after last week's 66-51 loss to Centralia.

"It's difficult to tell at this point just what kind of team we've got," Mueller said. "As I said, we don't have any size, but I think we're able to display some good defense."

Mueller said West's defenses consists of various zone defenses as well as man-to-man.

West's starting lineup includes 6-foot-3 junior center Jeff Walls, Trevor Anglim, a 6-foot-2 senior forward, Andy Smith, a 6-foot-2 senior forward, Bill Haynes, a 5-foot-11 senior guard and 5-foot-11 junior point guard Mark Lamson.

"Don's teams are traditionally good," Mueller said. "If they apply pressure like I think they will, they're going to be tough to beat," Mueller concluded.

In other area prep cage action, Madison will meet near rival Venice at Madison High School on Friday night. Action begins at 6:30 p.m.

The Trojans are currently 1-2 on the season while the Red Devils are 1-1.

Stars wear down Boys' Club

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

ST. LOUIS — The Granite City Center Stars basketball team increased their record to 5-3 Monday night with a 110-100 win over the Boys' Club of St. Louis.

The Stars were led by Cleveland Young who contributed 27 points and 11 rebounds.

"This was definitely Young's best game," stated Star's Coach Larry Graham.

But while Young was scoring his points on the boards, Rich Rody, who added another 22 points for the Stars, established their outside game.

Rody, who shot 83 percent from the field, scored continuously from 15 to 20 feet.

"This is a very professional play. I think the atmosphere really fired us up tonight," stated Graham.

The game began in a seesaw manner with both teams refusing to take charge. With the score tied at 13, the Stars missed two key shots which turned the ball over to the Boys'

Club who used the fast break to take a 19-13 lead.

"We really had some bad turnovers tonight. Most of them were caused by lackadaisical passes," stated Coach Graham.

The score continued to move back and forth before a scoring spree by the Stars gave them a 10-point lead, 38-29, with five minutes left in the first half.

The Boys' Club then started their own scoring binge, pulling to within two points of the Stars, 48-46.

Two free throws and two Marc Parker jump shots made the Stars out in front and made the half-time score 54-48.

In the second half the Stars continued to gradually increase their lead.

A jump shot by Rody gave the Stars a 10-point lead before Carvell Claggett added two more to make the score 66-54.

"The Boys' Club doesn't get to practice much so they aren't as well conditioned as we are," stated Coach Graham. "I knew that if we could stay close we would be able to get them at the end. We have such a strong bench."

Get them is exactly what the Stars did in the second half. Continually scoring from the inside and outside, the Stars increased their lead to 21 points, 108-87, with just three minutes left to play.

The Boys' Club tried to make a comeback, scoring 10 unanswered points, but it was too late as the Stars went on to win 110-100.

The Stars next match is Saturday, Dec. 10, at Kaskaskia. The game will begin at 3 p.m.

STARS (110): Young 27 (15 Rebounds), Rody 22, Parker 18, Goodwin 10 (12 Rebounds), Adams 10, Claggett 8, Petty 5, Linhart 4, Stanley 4, Silas 2.
BOY'S CLUB (100): Sutton 26, Westland 14, Coleman 13, Wrice 12, Schwartz 10, Lisszewski 6, Cox 6, Williams 6, Boaz 2, Blissett 2, Gremelshacher 2, McAdams 1.

At GCHS

Annual soccer banquet is Dec. 26

During the past 11 years the soccer families in Granite City have, in some fashion, had a gathering after the high school soccer season to recognize past and present high school players. The first banquet consisted of approximately 30 people.

Last year the soccer banquet attendance was approximately 500. Those who attended included nearly 100 past Granite City High School players who are now in various colleges and areas throughout the United States. Also attending were current high school players, families, friends and various community members. Up to this point, the banquets have mainly revolved around the South High School community.

This year, however, the banquet is anticipated to be the most exciting and unique event ever, since North and South High Schools have become one. Parents of past and present players from the community have started planning the banquet which will include all past and present players since the start of the soccer program in the Granite City High School many years ago.

It is anticipated that the attendance will almost double.

At this time, organizers are asking that persons consider a cash donation towards this banquet. The banquet has reached the point where the event has become so popular and has grown so much, its organizers no longer can depend only upon ticket sales to finance the banquet.

Granite City has gained quite a positive reputation for its soccer background, especially at the high school level, and the support from the community has contributed to that reputation. Its organizers would like to continue the annual banquet as it is truly an experience for the entire community, and an incentive for young people to pursue sports activities and work towards college scholarships.

Any contribution made towards the banquet would be appreciated. The date for the event is set for Monday, December 26.

This date was selected as most college students and families are home for the holidays and they truly enjoy visiting with their families.

For more information regarding the banquet, please call Carol and Gary Crane, 877-6983 or Norma and Ted Macios, 877-6985 or Kathy and Rich Moore, 877-6986 or Dee and Phil Sheridan, 876-3521 or 6626.

Persons who choose to contribute, your name, company, organization will be listed in our program as being a contributor. Make checks payable to: "Granite City Soccer Banquet", c/Phil Sheridan, 2301 State Street, Granite City, IL 62040.

Sauk Valley honors GC athletes

Seven Granite City North graduates were honored for their performances during the 1983 season at the Sauk Valley College Soccer Banquet. Those players receiving athletic letters were tri-captains Ron Rowden, Paul Barrington and Greg Beeler. Others earning the Sauk "S" included Mike Macko, Jeff Macko, Darrell Gibbs, and Jim Burton.

Special notice was made of Paul Barrington receiving honorable mention for All-American, most valuable player and best offensive player for the Sauk Redmen.

Barrington set a record of 24 goals scored during regular season play.

Also cited were Greg Beeler for best defense and Region IV first team honors; Ron Rowden Region IV first team; and Darrell Gibbs for being named to the Rockford College Invitational Tournament first team for his play against the University of Wisconsin.

Team captains for the 1984 Redmen will be Jim Burton and Darrell Gibbs. The Sauk kickers won 14, lost 10, and tied 2 matches in 1983 and look forward to even greater success in 1984, according to Redmen coach, Al Hardersen.

YBA signup ends Dec. 15

Sign-ups for the 1983-84 YBA season at the Tri-City Area YMCA will end on December 15. YBA basketball is played with nine-12 person teams. Each player participates a specified amount of time "so that everyone has the opportunity to play competitive basketball under league conditions," said David L. Ferrite, executive director at the YMCA. During the season each player has an opportunity to judge his or her own game skills as well as personal growth, ability to play team basketball, respect for each other, the referees and the opposition. "In YBA, we teach respect for an opponent simply because if there is no opponent, there is no game," said Ferrite. No players are "cut" or not allowed to "make" the team. When a boy or girl signs up for the YBA at the YMCA, they are automatically a member of a team. Parents or guardians are involved in league play as volunteer coaches, team and league managers, and in other capacities. Designed by the YMCA, with help from the NBA Players Association, the concept was fully tested before play began 10 years ago. In the initial seasons there were more than 300,000 participants in about 600 YBA's. "YBA was an instant and overwhelming success because too many kids had suffered through being told they weren't good enough" to play other sports or coaches "wouldn't let marginal players have an opportunity. Separate YBA programs for 8-12 year old youths will be held in Granite City, Venice, and Madison, this year, beginning in January. Information on registration, fees, adult volunteers, and other facets of the YBA may be obtained at the Tri-City Area YMCA, 676-7200.

YMCA has meeting room

The Tri-City Area YMCA has adopted a new policy which will allow non-profit organizations to use YMCA space for group meetings. These rooms will be available on a no-fee basis to all organizations who qualify. Rooms will be issued to organizations on a first-come, first-served basis. Qualified organizations will not be charged for the use of these rooms. For further information, persons should contact the Tri-City Area YMCA at 676-7200.

Gyaki wins Turkey Swim

For the past two years, the Tri-City Area YMCA has sponsored a turkey swim, in which swimmers total their laps over a period of eight days. Eric Gyaki has been the event winner both years. The first year, Eric won the contest by swimming 7 miles; this year Eric increased his mileage by swimming 22 miles. Carol Barnhart was this year's runner-up, swimming 10.5 miles. The winner received a 12 pound turkey, donated by Dave Schermer of Schermer's Market in Madison. Schermer's Market has donated a turkey to the YMCA since the contest began.

Holiday party for Ladies Coterie

Baskets of holly arranged with burning red tapers decorated the tables at Central Christian Church for the annual Christmas party of the Ladies Coterie.

Luncheon was served to 25 members and two associate members. Mrs. Evan Griffith led the opening prayer and Mrs. E. F. Reiske, club president, welcomed the group. Mrs. David John led the Club Collect.

The treasurer announced a donation was sent to the Salvation Army Tree of Lights, United Way and Protestant Welfare.

Mrs. Keith Edwards read the names of those marking birthdays in December and also read a Christmas poem.

Entertainment for the day included Mrs. Griffith accompanying the group at the piano as they sang several Christmas carols and Mrs. Fred Haug, reading an amusing anecdote, "Christmas at the Mathews."

Mrs. G. E. Filcott performed several violin solos accompanied by Mrs. Jack Cormier. Selections included, "Angels Serenade," "Two Hearts in Three Fourth Time," and "Toy Land."

The party concluded with a game session directed by Mrs. John who also presented each one with a gift.

Others present were, Medames T. C. Aufderheide, Emmett Beeler, Joe Billrey, Clarence Boettiger, William Carless, W. G. Cooley, Marvin Eddington, John Gordon, Lyndell Hagaman, Floyd Henley, Ray Horn, C. L. Louis, Board Maples, Louis Meek, Alfred Pape, A. C. Stoeber, Fred Werner, and Dawson Wade.

Farewell party for Dr. and Mrs. Brooks

A farewell party was given Sunday afternoon in the fellowship hall at Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Brooks, longtime members of the church who are moving to Fort Myers, Fla., to make their home.

Mrs. Viola Brooks served as the church pianist for many years and also was a member of the choir.

An open house reception was hosted by the Friendly Circle Class of the church from 2 to 4 p.m. Christmas decorations prevailed throughout the hall and a centerpiece of candles and bright red flowers adorned the main table.

During the social event approximately 50 members and guests presented the guests of honor with cards and gifts.

Mrs. Judy Hinterster presided over the guest book and a variety of desserts were served by the class members.

PRATHER PTA MEETING MONDAY AT 7 P.M.

Members and prospective members of Prather PTA are invited to attend a general meeting set for 7 p.m. Monday, Dec. 12, according to President Carol Franklin.

A $5 award will be presented to the class with the most parents in attendance and the money will then be used for the students of that particular class, the president added.

Guest speaker for the night will be John Mefford of the Granite City Public Library, who will speak on various programs available to students at the local facility.

MASTECTOMY EVENT SET

The next meeting of the St. Elizabeth Medical Center Mastectomy Club will be on Monday, Dec. 12, at 7:30 p.m. in SEMC's Westman Room. The program for the evening is a round table discussion.

REV. RICHARD DORTCH

Rev. Dortch to deliver sermon Sunday morning

The Rev. Richard W. Dortch, executive presbyter of the Assemblies of God and superintendent of the Assemblies of God of Illinois, will deliver his final sermon Sunday at the First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue, prior to assuming his new assignment.

A former Granite Cityan, Rev. Dortch expressed his desire to speak at the 10:30 a.m. service in his home church before undertaking the duties of corporate executive director and senior executive vice-president of the PTL Television Network in Charlotte, N.C.

A special luncheon has been arranged at Charlie's Restaurant, to honor the guest clergyman, immediately following the service.

During the religious hour the congregation and the Rev. C. Dale Edwards, host pastor, will accord honors to Rev. Dortch.

Former GC pastor to dedicate new church

The Rev. Kenneth Brand and congregation of Bethel Pentecostal Church, 431 E. Airline Drive, East Alton, will participate in special dedication ceremony of the new church at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 11.

Rev. Brand served as minister for the Bethel Chapel Pentecostal Church in Granite City, for about 10 years and after leaving the local church, he and his family served as missionaries in Peru, South America, for five years.

Other special services relating to the dedication are planned for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Sunday.

Rev. Leon Belt of Kansas City, Kan., will be the featured speaker at the morning service, according to the announcement.

Former resident to discuss 3rd book

Robert O. Butler, former Granite City resident, will discuss his third book, "Countrymen of Bones," on cable television Friday.

The book involves the invention of the nuclear bomb and a mystery about an Indian burial mound. The program will be aired at 10:30 and 6 p.m. on South-Western's "Coffee Break with Gregg McGee" show.

MHC boxers split two bouts

Two Mexican Honorary Commission boxers managed to split victories Saturday in amateur competition at the Electricians' Hall in south St. Louis.

Steve Gancheff, 119 pound novice, lost a decision to Derrick Walker of the Mathews-Dickey Boys' Club.

MHC Coach Merce Mendoza called the Gancheff-Walker matchup "one of the best of the night."

"It was a pretty good fight," Mendoza said. "They both landed some good punches, but Walker had the upper hand."

Mendoza complimented Walker, saying he was the most experienced of the two.

After that loss, MHC's Chip Hagnauer defeated Ray Engelhardt of the Carondelet Boxing Club.

Hagnauer, a 147-pound novice, picked up a unanimous decision over Engelhardt.

"Chip's really looking good," Mendoza said assessing his boxer.

"He looked a lot better Saturday night than he did during our show last month."

The key to Hagnauer's victory, Mendoza said, was his ability to throw an effective jab. "All his punches were working well for him, but especially his jab. He wasn't holding back."

This weekend, eight, younger sub-novice MHC boxers will travel upstate to compete in Silver Gloves competition. Results of their match will appear in Monday's sports section.

Plans are also finalized for a New Year's watch service on Saturday, Dec. 31, to commence at 7:30 p.m., the minister added.

St. Ann Altar Society hosts Christmas party

Yuletide decorations and a holiday centerpiece on the main table provided the atmosphere for the annual Christmas party, held in Engelbert Hall, for members of St. Ann's Altar Society of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison.

A catered dinner was served at 6:30 p.m. to 38 members and guests. After the dinner hour the group participated in a gift exchange and presented presents to the priests, nuns and lay teachers.

Games were played during the evening and Christmas carols were sung with Mary Gottzare and Josephine Gochfeld presiding at the piano. Mrs. Gochfeld also won the centerpiece as the special award.

German service at Good Shepherd Church

One of the area's most colorful seasonal highlights is the festive German Christmas service planned for Sunday, Dec. 11, 7 p.m. at Good Shepherd Lutheran, 1300 Belt Line, Collinsville.

The Rev. Hugh Fitz, 32, pastor of Faith Lutheran Church in Godfrey, will preach. A native of Germany, Pastor Fitz immigrated to this country with his parents at one year of age.

A double quartet, comprised of select singers from the Metro-East area, will render favorite European carols. Several groups of church youth studying the German language will sing vernacular holiday music, the Rev. D. A. Kastens, host minister announces.

The Holy Cross Lutheran Handbell

Choir, under the leadership of Miss Karen Cliff, will play special overseas holiday music. A Suzuki Violin Quartet will sing service music, beginning 6:30 p.m. A 10-piece ensemble (violin, flutes, clarinets, etc.) will also perform at this time.

Lay-readers will be Erwin Palau and Archie Schoenbeck and Rev. Kastens, will serve as liturgist. The entire festive setting, including congregational singing, will be in the German language. However, an English resume of the sermon will be distributed to any worshippers desiring assistance. Fellowship and refreshments will follow. The public is invited to attend this unusual cultural worship experience, the pastor added.

Third Baptist to present two Christmas musicals

Two special Christmas musicals will be presented at Third Baptist Church, 2601 Grand Ave., this month, in keeping with the holiday season, the Rev. James E. Donahue announces.

"Hark, the Herald Angel" will be performed on Sunday, Dec. 11, at 6:30 p.m. by the Sunshine Community Choir, under the direction of Mrs. MarJean Shifner.

This program will be performed in song by children in the fourth through the sixth grade level and it projects what might have happened in heaven when the news of the coming of the Christ Child was announced, the pastor added.

The second presentation is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. on Dec. 18, with the Sanctuary Choir performing the musical, "Son of the Highest," directed by John K. Hell, Minister of Music, and deals with the prophecy of Christ's birth. Rev. Donahue extends an invitation to the public to attend both musicals.

'Great Day' observance set Sundat at First Baptist

The First Baptist Church, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue, will host a "Great Day" event on Sunday, Dec. 11, featuring the Rev. Russell G. Richardson, director of the Evangelism Department, Illinois Baptist State Association in Springfield, Ill.

There will be Sunday School session and Bible Study beginning at 9:30 a.m. with Rev. Richardson to speaking at both the morning and evening worship hours.

Other plans include a 5 o'clock evening salad supper in the fellowship hall of the church for the congregation and guest, the Rev. Jack Ciccolio, host pastor announces.

Rev. Richardson will be assisted during the Sunday school session by Sunday school teachers and officers of the church, the minister added.

GENEALOGICAL MEETING

The Madison County Genealogical Society will meet at 7 o'clock tonight at Immanuel United Methodist Church, 800 N. Main St., Edwardsville. Christmas music will be provided by a kitchen band, "The Merry Makers."

Like 7:13... "And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Woe not."

A funeral procession bearing the body of a widow named passed Jesus. When He saw the tears of the broken-hearted mother He was moved with compassion, "Woe not, Mother," He said. Then, He raised the young man back to life.

This was indeed a notable miracle. But, did you know that Jesus in the same yesterday, today, and forever? He also sees your tears and has compassion on you.

Peter instructs us to cast all our cares on Christ, for He careth for us. By prayer and confession, you can tell Jesus all about your troubles. He will help you. He cares and He understands.

Try Him. Today.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

People often will contact this office inquiring about what steps they can take to avoid a future lawsuit. They want to limit their liability for future negligence. The general rule in Illinois is that parties may enter into a contract which eliminates liability in a given situation. Two examples where people seek to limit their liability will help illustrate this problem.

In one case, a person owned a swimming pool at his residence. Neighborhood children began using the pool, and the owner became concerned that a child could sustain an injury or even drown while swimming on his property. He inquired about the possibility of having the parents of the neighborhood children sign an agreement which would limit his liability in case of injury to the children.

It would probably be advisable to have the parents sign such an agreement in this situation. There are no Illinois cases dealing directly with these circumstances, but there are cases which have allowed health clubs and stock car races to limit their liability. The reasoning in these cases is that there are two private parties entering into the agreement, and if one party does not approve of the limitation on liability, he does not have to sign the contract and further can choose not to use the facilities.

Another situation where individuals seek to limit their liability involves the sale of real estate. Frequently the seller of a home will ask the buyer to sign a real estate contract dictating that the buyer has inspected the property and accepts the condition of the premises "as is." This also is an attempt to limit the seller's liability if the buyer should subsequently discover defects which were not apparent at the time the contract was signed. The question must be asked as to whether the seller is "off the hook" if the buyer signs a contract with an "as is" clause and two weeks later the roof collapses because of structural damage.

Once again, there is no Illinois case dealing directly with this particular situation. Such a clause, however, would apparently be effective in limiting the seller's liability unless the seller purposely concealed a defect in the premises. If the seller intended to deceive the buyer, this would constitute fraud. If the seller's conduct was fraudulent, the seller would probably be liable to the buyer in spite of the "as is" clause in the original contract.

Twenty-one members and one guest attended the afternoon affair and enjoyed devotions given by Mrs. Eula Meyer.

Mrs. Ahlvers, with the assistance of members, compiled a calendar of event for the forthcoming year and announced the group made 100 sick calls for the previous month. Also, Jan. 22 is set as United Methodist Women's Day and the observance will be held at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, the leader added.

Mrs. Hamilton hosts holiday dinner

Mrs. Evelyn Hamilton served a special dinner to members of the Friendly Circle Class of Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church to mark the holiday season, last week in her home.

Pastive yule motifs decorated the Hamilton residence and dining table featuring candy cane favors tied with red bows.

The Rev. Vernon Brown, pastor of the church, and the Rev. Ray Kelley, the immediate past minister, both offered table prayers.

During a short business session a love offering was collected and donated to the White Offering of the church and plans were made to provide gifts for the elderly and shut-in members of the church with distribution to be prior to Christmas Day.

A program of Christmas poems was presented by Mrs. Doris Brown, Mrs. Virgie Settle and Mrs. Connie Kelley. Mrs. Fern San Soucie also expressed good wishes and Christmas joy to all present.

To continue the program, Mrs. Evelyn Thompson played violin solos of religious songs and Christmas carols.

Others attending were Lucy Testerman, Tennie Webb, Millie Sherman, Emma Elmore, Lora Hancock, Madara Shaw, Mary Davis, Viola Brooks, Mary Hanfelder, Mayme Waggoner and guests, Dr. Hugh Brooks, Elsie Byrd, Gladys Pottilo and Pauline Squires.

Christmas candlelight choral service

The 22nd annual Christmas Candlelight Choral Service of the choir at St. John Lutheran Church, 2001 St. Clair Ave., along with congregational participation, will be held Sunday, Dec. 11th, at 7 p.m. in the church sanctuary.

Friends of the congregation are invited to attend and to join the choir and the congregation in the joint singing of many traditional and also new Christmas hymns and carols.

The church choir will enter the sanctuary of the church in candlelight procession and will sing a number of carols from the chancel steps. Later in the service, all lights in the church will be turned off with the exception of the light from the overhead Moravian "Herrnhuter" Star, suspended from the ceiling over the chancel. There will be singing of carols "by starlight," as the light from the star shines down on the nativity scene below.

Soloists for the evening will be Mrs. Josephine Diak, soprano, and Mrs. Diane Gebhardt, contralto, both of whom will do recitatives from Handel's Messiah. Charles "Rick" McQueen will accompany the singing of the Czech Carol, "The Carol of the Drum," on the snare drum. Organist for the service will be Mrs. Anita Childs, graduate of Valparaiso University, and a member of the American Guild of Organists. She is the wife of Seminarian Gary Childs, of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis.

After more choral numbers from the chancel steps, the choir will sing two choruses from Handel's Messiah, the final one being the annual rendition of The Hallelujah Chorus. Those present in the congregation that evening, who have ever sung this chorus at any time in the past anywhere, will be invited to come forward to join the choir on the chancel steps to sing along, the Rev. Samuel Boda said. Extra copies of the Hallelujah Chorus will be available and will be distributed to the guest singers.

A candlelight recessional will follow. Ladies of the Guild and congregation will serve light refreshments to all in the fellowship hall downstairs following the service. The public is invited, Rev. Boda added.

Mrs. Miller presents Christmas devotional

"Keeping Christmas" was the subject of a lesson presented by Mrs. Geneva Miller at the yuletide party of the Ruth Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, held in the church parlor.

Mrs. Sharon Shaffer, circle leader, conducted the business meeting and announced the general meeting of the United Methodist Women's Society will be held at 7:30 p.m. today. The Ruth and Sarah Circles will serve as co-hostesses for the event, which will also include the installation of officers for 1984.

Mrs. Dorothy Whitmer gave the devotions entitled "Prayer" taken from the book of James.

A new listing of lessons and hostesses for the next year was planned during the session.

Hostesses Mrs. Marie Klein and Mrs. Miller served refreshments to those named and to Mesdames Delores Allen, Esther Traylor, Ida Carris, Gladys Pottilo, Clara Huber, Mary Miller, Jan Kohl, Loriel Jennings and Joanne Kraus.

Free maps help identify paths of severe weather

Here's a little test: Name the counties adjoining your own.

Having trouble?

You're not alone. In fact, research at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale indicates that most people can't do it.

What spares this information from the trivia bin is the fact that the National Weather Service uses counties as reference points in reporting tornadoes and other severe weather warnings and watches.

So what if people getting the warnings don't know where the trouble is? That's what Richard Newcombe, a graduate student at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale, wanted to know. So he undertook a carefully controlled, scientific sample of 300 homeowners in Southern Illinois, Pennsylvania and Oklahoma — tornado belt people. The results staggered him. Only eight of the 300 — four percent — could come up with the names of counties adjacent to theirs.

Newcombe turned the study into a major portion of his dissertation for a doctorate degree in geography at SIUC. And the geography department itself, alarmed by the implications of Newcombe's findings, has begun a public service effort. It is distributing maps that identify counties in Southern Illinois, Southern Indiana, Western Kentucky and Western Tennessee.

The maps, which also include locations and names of television weather radar centers, are free for the asking, according to geography department head David G. Arrey.

"We believe the information could prove helpful to people during severe weather situations," said Arrey.

People who want a map should send a stamped, self-addressed business-size envelope to: County Map, Department of Geography, SIUC, Carbondale, Ill. 62901.

GC parents praise their conferences with teachers

Parent-teacher conferences held in Granite City elementary schools this fall prompted an overwhelmingly favorable reaction by parents. Questionnaires showed that 1,117 parents felt the discussions were valuable and three disagreed.

Other responses were: effort by the faculty to make the timing convenient, 1,105 yes, 11 no; material appropriately covered, 1,113 to five; and "did the conference help you to understand the level at which your child is working?" — affirmative, 1,109 to eight.

Participating teachers felt (74-2) that meeting parents in a conference setting helped the teacher to have a better understanding of the child. They also concluded (73-1) that such conferences help open communication channels between the home school, (76-1) that the format of two consecutive days helped in scheduling the meetings, and (67-4) that two conference days should be arranged for next year.

What were the three biggest problems related to parent-teacher conferences?

1. Non-participation by the parents who most needed to attend.
2. Scheduling of meetings with working parents and parents having two or more children in school.
3. Differences in priorities between the home and school.

BAC experiences enrollment growth

In a year when community colleges across Illinois are reporting a 7.7 percent decrease in enrollment, Belleville Area College (BAC) has experienced a growth in enrollment this year.

Enrollment at BAC, with the inclusion of the new Granite City Center, has increased 3.7 percent over last year's enrollment. This year 12,415 students are enrolled at the college, a 443 student increase from last year's enrollment of 11,972. Approximately 9,000 (73 percent) of these students attend school part-time.

The remaining 3,415 students attend school full-time.

THE ENROLLMENT increase at BAC contrasts sharply with the picture of Illinois community colleges, presented in a report recently issued by the Illinois Board of Higher Education. That document reports the 7.7 percent drop in enrollment at community colleges throughout the state.

The business-related programs show a marked increase in their enrollment this year. The programs experienced a 22.5 percent increase in their enrollment this year compared to last year's.

The most dramatic increase has been in the data processing program. This year, 3,518 students are enrolled in the program, a 38.9 percent increase over last year's class of 2,544.

BELLEVILLE AREA College is a comprehensive community college serving approximately 12,000 students. It serves a 2,000 square mile area that includes major portions of Randolph, Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties and small sections of Montgomery, Washington, Perry and Bond counties.

BAC's comprehensive program includes university-transfer programs, career programs, adult continuing education, basic education and high school equivalency preparation for those who were not able to complete their secondary school education, and non-degree courses for informal learning.

University transfer programs cover the first two years of a four-year college curriculum. Completion of the first two years at BAC leads to an associate of arts or associate of science degree.

CAREER PROGRAMS are aimed at students who want to go to work in the business or technical field after one or two years of college. Students earn certificates or associate of applied science degrees upon completion of career programs.

Girl scouts to participate at Career Day

One thousand Girl Scouts between 12 and 17 years-of-age are expected to attend a regional Career Day sponsored by River Bluffs Girl Scout Council and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Saturday, Feb. 18 at SIUE.

The girls, representing troops from Southwestern Illinois and the St. Louis metropolitan area, will have opportunities to visit more than 100 exhibits to discuss possibilities with career specialists and professionals in at least 75 fields of endeavor, as well as SIUE institutional representatives.

"THE SKY'S The Limit in 1984" is the theme of Career Day, which is being held on the university campus for the first time and for the first time includes girls from the entire St. Louis area in both Illinois and Missouri.

Activities, beginning at 10 a.m. and continuing until 2:30 p.m., will include campus tours conducted by the University Ambassadors, a luncheon and a "career carnival." Cost of Career Day will be $2.50 per participant, including an event patch and program materials. Participants will bring sack lunches.

Attendance will be limited to the first 1,000 girls who register with the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council, 4 Ginger Hill Court, Edwardsville, Ill. 62025. Registrations will be accepted until Dec. 31 and are open to all registered River Bluffs and Greater St. Louis Council Cadette and Senior Girl Scout troops. River Bluffs includes five Illinois counties—Madison, St. Clair, Monroe, Calhoun and Jersey—and areas of Clinton, Macoupin and Randolph counties; the Greater St. Louis Council is comprised of St. Louis City and County and 11 other regional counties in Missouri.

FOR ADDITIONAL INFORMATION, interested persons may call Karl Herzog, River Bluffs Council, 1-682-0692 or Joanne Fritz, Greater St. Louis Council, 1-314-241-1270.

O'Brien's computer program wins award

The computer program, "Teasers By Tobbs," has won the 1983 Computer Software Award from Learning magazine, publisher and editor-in-chief. The program was designed and developed by Tom O'Brien, professor in the School of Education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

It is one of 35 programs recognized by the magazine this year which will be listed in the December issue of "Learning and Curriculum Product Review" and the January issue of "Classroom Computer Learning and Educational Dealer."

IT IS PART of a series by O'Brien published by Student Communications including "Tobbs Learns Algebra," "Counters," the newly released "King's Rule," and "Tobbs" due to be released in January. O'Brien said, "Tobbs teaches children mathematical thinking without thinking. It places them in situations where they have to construct mathematical thinking."

"Teasers By Tobbs" also won the Atari Star Award for educational programming and the Reston Hall of Fame Award. "Parents' Choice Magazine" recommended it as "an unexpected, enticing array of arithmetical problems for making addition and multiplication fun."

In a review in "InfoWorld," a computer magazine, the programs were praised as "what educational software ought to be; they stimulate thinking and encourage students to reason answers to problems."

ALTHOUGH "Teasers By Tobbs" was developed for educational use, it will soon be available for home use through retail stores in the St. Louis area.

O'Brien, a resident of University City, Mo., joined the SIUE faculty in 1970. He is a researcher on children's thinking and a former NATO Senior Research Fellow in Science.

BAC class teaches students how to be interviewed

Belleville Area College's interviewing class can change the nervousness people feel about being interviewed. "Interviewing is a class anybody can take and one everybody should take," instructor Barbara Kordenbrock said.

Two sections of interviewing will be offered this spring. One days and one evening. Kordenbrock stressed interviewing is not just a course in how to get a job. While the skills learned can be applied to job interviews, they have much broader uses, she said.

PARTICIPANTS will learn how to be interviewed, to interview others, to listen, to prepare resumes, to write cover letters, and to fill out application forms.

Registration for the course is under way at the main campus, 2800 Carlyle Road, Belleville. The day class will meet from noon to 1:15 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays, and the night class from 7 to 8:45 p.m. Mondays. For information, interested persons may call Barbara Kordenbrock, 235-2700, extension 429. Classes begin the week of Jan. 23, 1984.

Seminar for new buyers offered in St. Louis area

A training course for new buyers will be offered Jan. 19 and 20 by the St. Louis area by the Center for Management Studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The two-day seminar is scheduled at the Airport Ramada Inn from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. each day.

SIUE certification courses offered

The office of Continuing Education will offer three non-credit certification courses during winter quarter.

Topics to be undertaken during the seminar include: centralized vs. decentralized buying, blanket orders and systems contracting, vendor analysis, cost analysis, and buying major and capital equipment.

Participants will also be introduced to the legal aspects of purchasing, effective negotiations, computer applications to purchasing, and motivation and performance evaluation.

INSTRUCTOR FOR the seminar will be Myron E. Frye, vice president of purchasing for Marenmont Corp. in Chicago. Before joining Marenmont, Frye held executive positions with White Farm Equipment Co., Phillips Industries, American Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co.

The seminar should be of interest to buyers, directors, managers or anyone closely involved in the purchasing function. Additional information may be obtained by contacting James F. Miller Jr., director of the SIUE Center for Management Studies, by calling 1-692-3686.
